Haunted Barn will open October 22

Over the last nine years, the Haunted Barn in Lehman, experienced numerous attempts to make it safe for the general public. This summer, the executive committee of the Haunted Barn proposed even more safeguards.

For the 10th Anniversary of the Lehman Haunted Barn, the committee decided to install a new 100 amp electrical service, a new emergency lighting system, and additional fire protection on each of the three floors. After a few trial runs, the safety systems seemed to help, but unfortunately a few people have entered the building and were never seen again. (We'll keep looking for them.)

Actually, with the Lehman United Methodist Youth Group, the Lehman Volunteer Fire Company, at least seven trained Emergency Medical Technicians, and lots of other competent help, we can almost guarantee your safe stroll through the Haunted Barn.

If you would like to brave the horrors of the Lehman Haunted Barn, bring $3 and a friend and meet behind the Lehman Post Office in Lehman, October 22 through October 25 and October 27 through October 31. (We're taking off on October 26 to look for remains!)

All attempts to get through the Haunted Barn begin at 7 p.m. each night and ends at 10 p.m.

Open air art exhibit opens October 30

En Plein Air '92, an exhibit of art from the open air, will be on display at Sue Hand's Imagery, Main Street, Dallas, October 30 through November 1. The exhibit will consist of artwork created by Sue Hand, Leigh Pawling, Diane Czajkowski, Jean Fader, Linda Ondish, Karen Shelley and over 20 other artists as they present local and vacation landscapes painted in the plein air tradition. The paintings and drawings represent a variety of media, including oil, alkyd, watercolor, graphite, pastel and others.

The artists range in experience from professional, to hobbyists and students, but all are dedicated to plein air painting. "En plein air" is a classical French term meaning "in the open air," which is applied to artwork created outside, on location, "in situ."

Local art collectors are invited to preview the exhibit on October 30, from 9 to 5 p.m. at Sue Hand's Imagery. A "Meet the Artists" reception will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. that evening. Additional exhibit hours are Saturday 9 to 9 and Sunday, 1-5 p.m.

Once A Month, A Man Comes To Your House And Tells You Everything You Want To Know About Your Finances.

Once again, Mellon delivers. This time with a statement simpler and more comprehensive than any other around. There's letter-perfect reporting on checking, savings, ATM and phone transactions. CDs, IRAs, credit lines and loans. All the money going out. And all the money coming in. In plain English. And, optionally, big type or braille. There's one hitch, though. First you have to have a checking account. But we'll give you a phone and six months of Telephone Bill-Paying free when you open one. And if you already have a checking account, well, you can get free stuff, too. Stop by any office. Or call 1 800 245-4920 for details. And as for other services only we offer, we'll keep you posted.
