Penn State honors scholarship winners

The Advisory Board of Penn State Wilkes-Barre this month gave a reception to honor the students who have won scholarships. This year, there are 82 students on scholarships.

More than one-half of the students are enrolled in engineering and science curriculums. Most of the monies that provide scholarships are raised locally through the Annual Fund Campaign which will soon launch its community division drive.

Almost all the scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic merit along with family need. Some of the scholarships are endowed by generous benefactors from this area, and therefore, are granted every year.

In the past few years, as federal support for colleges diminished, the need for private giving to help worthy students attend Penn State has become crucial to the scholarship fund. The students represent the best and brightest and most are graduates of local high schools.

Among them are Jeff Polachek,

Dallas; Sherri Conrad, Dallas; Michelle Baldwin, Hunlock Creek; Marcus Casaldi, Dallas; David Raker, Shavertown; Kerry Ann Jaslar, Trucksville; Derr Bologna, Harveys Lake.

Also, Jacqueline Stone, Shavertown; Jeri Searloss, Harveys Lake; Stephen Schaefer, Shavertown; Jeffrey Mokychik, Dallas; Michael Kulikowski, Sweet Valley; Paul Hopa, Dallas; Richard Thomas, Dallas; Justin Goodwin, Hunlock Creek; Richard Matysik, Hunlock Creek.
