

Wilkes Conservatory forming kid's chorus

The Wilkes Community Conservatory is forming a Children's Chorus. Rehearsals begin at 12 noon on January 16, 1993. The chorus will be directed by Mrs. Roseann Orfanella and is for children ages 5 to 12 years. Orfanella has been conducting the WCC High School Chorale for the past five years and currently guest conducts elementary/middle school district and regional festivals. Roseann also teaches and conducts at the Encore Music Camp each summer and taught at Wyoming Seminary Lower School for three years.

The Children's Chorus will be performing a variety of music ranging from Disney Children's classics, spirituals, classical songs, and popular tunes. In addition to the spring concert at Wilkes University, the group will perform for schools, festivals, PTA meetings and other community groups.

Students should register by December 23. For more information call the Conservatory office weekday afternoons at 831-4425.

30 Years Ago - Dec. 20, 1962 ROGERS FINDS CIVIL WAR NEWSPAPER

Within a few days of the 100th anniversary of the Civil War Battle of Fredericksburg, Daniel C. Rogers, of Follies Rd., doing some renovation work on the Rummage residence near Huntsville Nursery came across several pages of the Dec. 15, 1862 issue of the New York Daily Tribune. The paper was glued to the back of wallpaper torn from the wall. One half of the sheet is devoted to the Tribune correspondent's story of the Battle of Fredericksburg.

Residents who contributed to the Dr. Henry M. Laing Fire Co. and Dallas Community Ambulance Coin Card Drive may now learn what services their contributions have financed this year. Ambulance-traveled 8,000 miles in 225 trips to General, Nesbitt, Mercy and Wyoming Valley Hospitals; eight trips to Geisinger Hospital, Danville; six to Philadelphia and one to Binghamton. The fire crew answered 42 calls during the year. In addition, Dr. Henry M. Laing Co. assisted other companies in four serious fires including one at Harveys Lake and one at Idetown.

20 Years Ago - Dec. 21, 1972 KINGSTON TOWNSHIP BUDGET HITS $200,000

There will be a blazing yuletide log in the Dallas Post's fireplace this Friday from 3-6 p.m. as we celebrate the Christmas season with our annual open house. A tradition at the Post for at least 25 years, the Open House provides us with the opportunity to extend holiday cheer and hospitality to our friends throughout the Back Mountain.

There will be no increase for Kingston Township residents in 1973, it was announced at the regular monthly meeting. The proposed budget will be $200,000, taxes will remain at seven mills property; $5 per capita; 1% earned income and 1% real estate transfer (shared 50-50 with the school district).

David Schooley, Harris Hill Road, Trucksville, donated two beautiful Christmas trees complete with lights to residents of Frances Slocum and Kester Trailer Parks to "make Christmas a little brighter for flood victims living there" and according to the park managers his good intentions were well received.

The Dallas Mountaineers rolled over the Tunkhannock Tigers 45-5 in their opening match of the 1972-73 season. Lake-Lehman defeated Wyalusing 32-27 in a close match held at Wyalusing.

Library plans Christmas festivities

By NANCY KOZEMCHAK

The Back Mountain Memorial Library is decorated and ready for the Holiday Season. The Christmas season is a time for bright lights, cheery greetings, tricky driving and the lovely white snow.

Our Christmas festivities for our patrons and friends will begin on Monday, Dec. 21 with the Book Club Christmas party at 1:30 in the reading room of the library. The program will be presented by Ernie Wolfe with his musical selections played with spoons, a unique kind of music.

There will be Christmas music and caroling enjoyed by the entire ensemble. The members of the Friends of the Library, library patrons, and the general public are invited to this gala Christmas extravaganza. Refreshments will be served including coffee, tea, punch, cookies, candy and other goodies.

The library will have Open House for the Holidays on Tuesday and Wednesday, December 22 and 23 from 2 to 4 in the afternoon in the reading room. Christmas refreshments will be served and everyone is welcome to stop in for some cheer. This is the library staff's way of saying Merry Christmas to our friends and patrons.

The library has a live Christmas Tree in the foyer which was donated to us by Edward and Alice Wodaski of Circle Drive in Dallas. The tree was cut from their tree farm in Forkston. We thank Ed and Alice for this Christmas donation.

New books at the library: "The Crystal Desert" By David G. Campbell is the story of Summers in Antarctica. The book is the winner of a Houghton Mifflin Literary Fellowship Award. It is a unique portrait of Antarctica. This book is about the other Antarctica, the "Banana Belt" of the Antarctic Peninsula. The interior of the peninsula is biological haiku: a few eloquent syllables of plants and animals. The tallest plant is a lichen ten centimeters high, the largest land animal a flightless midge two millimeters long. But the sea surrounding the peninsula brims with life like no other on earth.

"My Love Affair with England" by Susan Allen Toth is a traveler's memoir, in which the author shares an aspect of her extraordinary inner life: the quietly passionate side of a woman who has been in love with England for the past 30 years. This modern odyssey explores what happens when the vital imagination of a writer from the American Midwest meets the many-layered legacy that is Great Britain. An in-depth look at England.

The staff of the Back Mountain Memorial Library wishes everyone a most joyous, cheerful and peaceful Christmas. Greetings from Martha, Nancy, Marilyn, Jennifer, Jane, Lou Ellen, Millie and Marie. Happy Holidays!

Can you name them?

Can you identify any of these people in this photo? It looks like it might be at Lehman Center, but that's just a guess. The photo was taken by the late James Kozemchak in December, 1960.
