

Penn State announces spring film schedule

Free films will be shown during the spring semester at the Penn State Wilkes-Barre campus in Lehman on Thursday evenings, 7:30 p.m., at the Bierly Auditorium of the Science Center. The movies, part of the annual international Film Festival at Penn State, are open to the public and include the following.

February 4, "She's Got to Have It." This 1986 Spike Lee film was his first major hit. Nola's men can't stand sharing her with one another.

February 18, "Ju Dou" (directed by Zhang Yi Mou, 1990, China) Erotic forbidden passion between a mill owner's very young wife and his overworked nephew.

March 4, "Alphaville" (directed by Godard, 1965, France) Eddie Constantine as a disengaged detective in a futuristic society ruled by a computer.

March 18, "Parting Glances" (directed by Bill Sherwood, 1986, U.S.) 24 hours in the lives of two parting lovers; Steve Buscemi's supporting role as a rock star dying of AIDS is fabulous.

April 1, "Tales From Gimly Hospital" (Guy Maddin, 1990, Canada) Surreal, hilarious and better than David Lynch.

April 15, "The American Friend" (Wim Weners, 1977, Germany) Dennis Hopper in an homage to the American thriller. Paranoid, frenetic and riveting.

Accounting students at College Misericordia will offer free tax assistance to elderly and handicapped individuals through the IRS-sponsored Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program.

The VITA program at Misericordia begins Monday, Feb. 1 and includes 18 dates through April 15, according to Fred Croop, accounting program director.

Area artist's paintings on display at Mellon Bank

Paintings by Carverton artist Dorothy Ann Searfoss are currently on display at Mellon Bank, Main Street, Dallas through mid-February.

The exhibit includes some of Searfoss' finest acrylic paintings depicting her love of wildlife and natural environments. Generally realistic in approach, Searfoss' brushstrokes suggest impressionistic colors and textures in some works, yet at other times the overall look is photographic realism.

Ann Searfoss has been painting and drawing for over 17 years and works in all of the major art mediums, including graphite, watercolor and acrylic. She serves on the board of Cider Painters of America, a national miniaturist organization, and also is the group's Recording Secretary. She is also a charter member of the Pennsylvania Plein Air Society, and many of her works are done outside on location in the open air.

Searfoss resides in Carverton with her husband, Don.

The public is invited to view this exhibit during regular banking hours at Mellon Bank, Dallas, through mid-February.
