Tom Byron, Dallas, wins Seminary's Geography Bee

The eight Sem students participating in the National Geographic Geography Bee had to know more than location: they had to know details about politics, economy and religion in order to answer questions put to them as part of fifth annual National Geography Bee, sponsored by National Geographic World and Amtrak. Last week these fifth- and sixth-grade students were participants in the bee taking place in schools nationwide.

Participants were Thomas Byron, Dallas; Raj Dedhia, Laffin; Sudha Gollapudi, Wilkes-Barre; Missy Howell, Dallas; Randy Lawrence, West Pittston; Michael Orlando, Pittston; Sapan Talati, Dallas; Taylor Wielage, Dallas.

Three rounds of seven questions each, provided by National Geographic, helped to trim the ranks of the young competitors. Tom Byron son of Drs. Joan and Thomas Byron, Dallas, emerged as first-round victor, and moved one step closer to winning the $25,000 scholarship. As Wyoming Seminary's representative to the next leg of the competition, Byron took the written component of the test this week.

Up to 100 leading scorers in each state will advance to the state level April 2. The final leg of the competition, the national geography bee, will be held 25-26 and will air on PBS, hosted by Alex Trebek. The first-place national winner receives a $25,000 college scholarship; the second place winner, $15,000 scholarship; and the third-place winner a $10,000 scholarship.

Students at the Lower School, regularly read National Geographic, saw the contest promoted, and asked Mrs. Jeanne Yarney, assistant dean of the Lower School, if they could enter. This is the first year that Sem has chosen to participate, according to Mrs. Yarney.

Andy Sullivan, history teacher at Sem's Upper School campus in Kingston, tutored students twice a week for two and one-half months in preparation for the competition. Fifty students took part in the tutoring sessions initially. Over time, they became eight.

"The students were eager to learn new facts, but I was amazed at how much they already knew," said Sullivan.
