TRUCK HITS UTILITY POLE IN SNOW

According to Dallas Borough police, a 1988 Ford F-150 pickup truck operated by Stephen J. Wojtek, 32, of Swoyersville, was involved in a one-vehicle accident Friday morning, February 12. Police said that as Wojtek was attempting to put the truck into four-wheel drive while rounding a curve on Main Street, the truck slid, striking a utility pole head-on. The truck sustained severe damage and was towed from the scene, police said.

JUVENILE CHARGED IN FRACAS

Dallas Borough police charged a 13-year-old male juvenile with disorderly conduct Thursday, February 11, in connection with a fight with several other juveniles in front of Mimmo's in the Dallas Shopping Center.

MAN CHARGED WITH INDECENT EXPOSURE, DRUG VIOLATIONS

According to Dallas Borough police, Charles Frank Patton, 36, of Noxen, was arrested and charged with indecent exposure, open lewdness and violation of the Controlled Substances Act. Police said that Patton had exposed himself in front of an attendant at the Hess gas station. During a routine pat-down and frisk search, police found 16 syringes, three teaspoons containing a white residue, a brown prescription bottle containing a clear liquid, a disposable lighter and a pack of cigarettes with two folded papers containing white powder, which police tests indicated was cocaine.

D.U.I. ARRESTS

Dallas Borough police made the following arrests for driving while under the influence, after failing field sobriety and blood alcohol (BAC) tests:

- Terry Daniel Benales, 23, of Philadelphia, was also cited for driving without a license after police observed him driving erratically on Route 415. Benales stated to police that he was looking for his sister's house in Hazleton. Police confiscated a baseball bat and a black 1.77-caliber Crossman Repeater 4mm BB pistol and ammunition after searching his vehicle. Benales' BAC level was .17, police said.

- John M. Slaby, 41, of Dallas, was arrested for D.U.I. after the 1991 Chevrolet which he was driving struck the rear end of a 1987 Subaru operated by Dina Marie Scavone, 27, of RR 1 Sweet Valley, pushing it into the rear of a 1979 Ford sedan operated by Jeffrey Carter, 21, of Dallas, while they were stopped at the traffic light on Route 415 at Dallas Corners. Police said that Slaby's BAC was .20, twice the legal limit.

- Robert John Kubacki, 21, of Shavertown, was charged with D.U.I. and violating the Controlled Substance Act after police observed him driving erratically on Route 309 with his car's windows frosted up. Police found marijuana during a routine search of the car.
- Timothy R. Philmeck, 42, of Tunkhannock, was arrested after police observed him driving erratically on Route 309. Police said that his blood alcohol level was .18, nearly twice the legal limit.

- Robert Jordan, 45, of RR 1 Dallas, was arrested after police observed him driving erratically on Route 309. He refused three times to consent to a BAC (blood alcohol test).

THREE ACCIDENTS DURING SNOWSTORM

Kingston Township police investigated three one-vehicle accidents during the February 12 snowstorm:

- Jacqueline Domzalski, 44, of Shavertown, lost control of her 1991 Mazda while traveling downhill on the snow-covered roadway on North Pioneer Ave. striking a culvert, police said. Patrolman Walter Davis investigated the accident.
- A 1985 Dodge Caravan operated by Robert Stambaugh, Jr., 19, of Trucksville, slid on the snow-covered roadway while traveling north on North Pioneer Ave., sliding into a ditch, onto an embankment, through a hedge and across a sidewalk, where it struck pedestrian John Clause of 115 North Pioneer Ave., police said. Patrolmen Walter Davis and Wade Curtis investigated the accident.

- A 1987 Plymouth Horizon operated by Diane Huff, 32, of RR 1 Falls, spun and hit a guardrail on West Eighth Street in the vicinity of Mount Zion Road, police said. Patrolman Robert Weiss investigated the accident.
