Trucksville U.M. Church school studies Somalia

The Church School at Trucksville United Methodist Church recently completed a special mission study on Somalia. By participating in six different centers during their Church School session, the various classes came to know more about that country and the recent difficulties in distributing food to the hungry.

The centers included a fact table, baking African flatbread, and listening to a dramatic reading given by the Jr./Sr. High Class. Another center considered why the church is called into mission, and a feeding center demonstrated food distribution problems. The children also had a choice to construct an aqual, a portable shelter used by the large nomadic population in Somalia.

The study is being followed by a speaker on Somalia at a date to be announced. The community will be invited to attend. The classes will continue to raise money until June, which will then be sent to Somalia Emergency Fund sponsored by UMCOR (The United Methodist Committee on Relief).

Rifkin Resource Center will be dedicated April 18

Mrs. Esther B. Davidowitz, chairperson, announces the dedication of the Rifkin Resource Center of the Jewish Community Center of Wyoming Valley will take place on April 18 at 1 p.m.

The Resource Center is being funded by Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Rifkin as a source for books, magazines, newspapers, videos, etc. having to do with the History of the Jewish People, the Holocaust, the State of Israel and the Jewish Religion.

Among the items housed in the Rifkin Resource Center is a Holocaust Torah which was handwritten in 1750. It is one of the 1564 Torahs which constituted part of the treasures looted by the Nazis during the 1939-45 war from the desolated Jewish communities of Bohemia, Moravia and Slovakia. It was the plan of the Nazi regime to create a museum to the "extinct race of the Jewish people" after the war. These Torahs were cared for by the Czechoslovak Government for many years, and were acquired with the good-will of the Czechoslovak Government by good friends for ARTIA for Westminster Synagogue, London, England. The Torah is on permanent loan to the Jewish Community Center.

The program will begin with an invocation by Rabbi Michael Joseph of Temple B'nai B'rith. Mrs. Esther B. Davidowitz will then give those assembled, a history of the Rifkin Resource Center. Readings will be given by Dan Chariton, Fred Stern, David Schwager and Laura Rifkin, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rifkin. The Library key will be presented by Arnold Rifkin to Paul Lantz, Jewish Community Center President. A message of appreciation will be expressed by Dr. Robert S. Caplin. Also participating in the ceremony will be Sandy Rifkin, P. Theodore Magram, Executive Director of the Jewish Community Center, Reverend Lynn Lampman, the Council of Churches and John Barnes, N.E. PA Coalition. The benediction will be offered by Monsignor McGowan, Chairman Hospital Association of Pennsylvania.

Following the dedication, programs on the Holocaust for children, ages 10 to 16, will be held in the Rifkin Resource Center.

Life Line: By Dr. Albert Klein

If you have heard about chiropractic before, you probably know that chiropractic is different. It is an approach to health rather than an approach to the treatment of disease. It is part of an active, positive program that every person should have in order to make his or her life healthier and more productive. Chiropractic recognizes the inherent power of the body to heal itself and maintain itself in a state of health. In order for this inborn wisdom to express itself fully, it must have a nervous system that is free of any interference. Vertebral subluxations (slight misalignments of the bones of the spine) interfere with the proper function of the nervous system. Chiropractors correct subluxations. It is a simple principle with life and health changing potential.

It is easy to see that unlike therapeutic approaches such as medicine and surgery which are designed to help "sick" people, chiropractic is for everyone. Every member of the human race; male, female, child, elderly, rich, poor, healthy or sick has a spine which can and may be subluxated. This means that every person in the world should have his or her spine checked regularly by a chiropractor. We maintain that this is necessary if that person expects to get well and stay well. We don't claim that this is the only thing necessary to get well and stay well. However, it is vital and that vital service can only be performed by a chiropractor.

Because of our enthusiasm for this principle and what it can mean to all humanity, chiropractic has been accused of claiming to be a cure-all, when in fact just the opposite is true; chiropractic is a cure-nothing. Chiropractic has been incorrectly credited for having cured people of all manner of disease from the common cold to cancer. It is true that many people have gotten well under chiropractic care from these and many other diseases. However, that is not because chiropractic cured them. They got well because their bodies, given a proper nerve supply, were able to respond and thereby correct the condition. That is the only reason anyone gets well under chiropractic care, medical care, or no care. Our only claim is that if the body is able to heal itself, it can do it a little better with a good nerve supply. That is our objective.

We explain this to you so that the confusion about chiropractic can be cleared up. Chiropractic is not a substitute for nor an alternative to medical care. It is not intended to be a cure or treatment for any disease. It is intended to be a necessary and vital health service for all people, no matter what disease they may or may not have. It is therefore our policy to accept all manner of patients, no matter what their age or health status, no matter what disease or condition they may have. We do this with the knowledge that under care they have a greater chance of improving their state of health.
