

Great Books final program to be April 26

Great Books at Hayfield, an informal discussion series open to all who enjoy reading and discussing great literature, will meet Monday, April 26, 7 p.m. in the Hayfield House Community Room on the campus in Lehman. This last program in the spring series is free and open to the public.

Edgar Lee Masters' work Spoon River Anthology will be the topic of discussion led by Irene Thomas of Sweet Valley. Poet Masters was a prolific writer, but his reputation was established on the basis of this one work, first published in 1915 and written in free verse. From their graveyard on the hill, more than 200 dead citizens of the small Middle Western town of Spoon River reveal their secrets in shocking stories of intrigue, corruption, frustration and adultery.

For more information on the Great Books discussion series, call the campus at 675-2171.
