

Charges pending after quad-truck accident

By GRACE R. DOVE
Post Staff

Numerous charges are pending after an accident involving an all-terrain vehicle and a pickup truck Saturday, August 21, shortly after 5 p.m. in Franklin Township.

Police said that a Yamaha 350 Banshee four-wheel all-terrain vehicle known as a "quad," operated by Ronald C. Bulford, 23, of Butler St., Pittston, was traveling west on Lockville Road when it ran through a stop sign at the intersection of Lockville Road and Village Road, sliding into the right side of a 1985 Ford pickup truck operated by Edward D. Napierkowski, 20, of RR 3 Dallas.

Bulford and a passenger, Robert J. Malaschi, 20, of Winter Ave., Pittston, were thrown from the quad after the impact, police said.

Bulford and Malaschi were taken to Community Medical Center in Scranton, where Bulford was treated for head and neck injuries and released. Malaschi is listed in satisfactory condition in the trauma unit, according to a hospital spokesperson.

Neither wore a helmet, police said.

Police plan to file charges of operating an all-terrain vehicle on a public roadway, failure to stop at a stop sign, reckless driving, failure to wear a helmet and operating a vehicle without a valid registration and inspection sticker against Bulford, investigating officer Trooper Dennis H. Shovlin of the Pennsylvania State Police Wyoming Barracks said.

The state police were assisted at the scene by the Franklin Township Fire Company and ambulances from Franklin Northmoreland and Falls.

Fun with stories

Two Dallas high school students, Heather Brody and David Holdredge, volunteered their time this summer to plan and present a six session Story Hour for 3 to 5 year olds at the Back Mountain Memorial Library. Heather's mother, Millie, was a former Story Lady and David attended Story Hour at the library when he was four years old. Pictured are Heather and David with some of the children. Marilyn Rudolph, director of children's services, has encouraged and supervised young people who are interested in children to volunteer for library programs.
