IN CONCERT - Singer and composer Jane Sapp will present music from various African-American traditions at the Chicory House January 28.

Jane Sapp will involve all at Chicory House concert

Jane Sapp, singer, pianist, composer, cultural organizer and national community builder will appear in concert at the Chicory House in Wilkes-Barre Friday evening January 28, at 8:00 p.m. in a celebration of African-American music as a force for liberation and empowerment.

The non-profit, volunteer operated Chicory House, Northeast Pennsylvania's only venue dedicated to presenting folk music and dance, holds its coffee house concerts in the Community Room of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church on South Franklin Street across from Boscov's in downtown Wilkes-Barre. Doors for this concert will open at 7:30 p.m.

Born in the heart of the segregated South, Jane Sapp grew up singing church songs and the popular rhythm and blues of black Augusta, Georgia. She began writing her own songs while still a school girl and began playing the piano for two churches at the age of nine.

Ms. Sapp has appeared in concert at Carnegie Hall, Virginia's Wolf Trap, the Village Vanguard, in union halls, schools, colleges, churches, and community centers all over the country.

Admission to Jane Sapp's Chicory House concert on Friday January 28 at 8:00 p.m. will be $7.00 at the door. There are no advance sales or reserved seats; table and other seatings will be on a first-come first-served basis. Desserts and beverages will be available for purchase. For more information or to become a Chicory house volunteer phone 717-675-8843.
