Eighth-graders see Native American culture close-up

While eighth grade students of Carol Oliver at Lake-Lehman Junior High studied Conrad Richter's historical novel, "The Light In the Forest", they had a chance to speak with Grace Dove Ostrum, a descendant of the 18th century Lenni-Lenape Native Americans featured in the novel.

Ostrum is a traditional storyteller and Community Outreach worker of the Lenni-Lenape Historical Society of Allentown.

She resides in Franklin Township with her husband, Matt.

She has been a resource person for three years in Mrs. Oliver's classes and has visited many other area schools and organizations as a representative of her people.

Mother's Day!

Give Mom something different this time...

"There are no flights to catch to be in an
on-Ka Spa Skin treatment
based on essential oils
from the best botanicals"

Treat Mom to an 80 minute facial designed specifically to combat the signs of aging and relieve dry winter skin. Hyaluronic Acid and coltsfoot are used for super hydration, distilled nectars of beech buds and vegetal placenta oxygenate and firm the skin. Vitamin E neutralizes free radicals which are released by sun, pollution and hardwater and contribute to premature aging. Other botanicals such as cypress, thyme and geranium dramatically improve the resiliency of the skin and promote a young flawless complexion. Lines are noticeably lighter: skin feels smoother and more elastic. The results are so incredible and instantaneous, she'll want to come back for more.
