Johnson, Konecke named top Misericordia teachers

Dr. Jeffrey Johnson and Carl Konecke are the recipients of the 1993-94 College Misericordia Excellence in Teaching Awards, Dr. Carol A. Jobe, Misericordia president, has announced.

Johnson and Konecke received their awards during the College's 68th Commencement ceremony. Johnson received the Excellence in Teaching Core Curriculum Award, while Konecke earned the Excellence in Teaching in Professional Programs Award. The winners were selected by current Misericordia students and the class of 1993.

Johnson, an associate professor of English, has been teaching at Misericordia since 1991. He came to Misericordia from Calvin College, where he was an assistant professor. Johnson, a Trucksville resident holds a Ph.D. in English Literature from the University of Missouri-Columbia. He has been published in several magazines and holds extensive experience as a public lecturer. He is currently doing research for the variorum edition of John Donne's Epigrams, Epithalamia, Epitaphs, Inscriptions, volume 8.

Konecke, an associate professor of biology, began teaching at Misericordia in 1970. The Wilkes-Barre resident has served as the Division Chairman and is currently the Program Director of biology. He has also served as an academic advisor to biology majors every year of his tenure at Misericordia.

Gift to the school

Recently, Laura Vodzak, a fourth grade student at Dallas Elementary School, donated an original water color painting to the school as part of a permanent exhibit. The painting is of a cat reclining on a stone wall. Laura excels in art, having received numerous awards and for five years has been a private student of Sue Hand. Pictured are Miss Pauline Donahue, Elementary Art Teacher, Laura and Ms. Ruth Tetschner, Principal, Dallas Elementary School.

Nulton takes double major at Fordham

Peter E. Nulton, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Edgar Nulton, Dallas, graduated from Fordham University, New York, at the commencement exercise May 21.

Nulton, a 1990 graduate of Bishop O'Reilly High School, received a Bachelor of Arts degree with a double major in classical languages and fine arts and a minor in classical civilizations.

While a student at Fordham, he served as president of the Modern Ancients, Fordham University's Classics Club.

He was a four year letterman in varsity swimming and also lettered on Fordham's Division I water polo team.

He was on the Patriot League Honor Roll and ranked academically as one of the university's top 10 athletes. The Eastern Water Polo Association named Peter to the Academic All Conference Team for 1993-94.

While attending Fordham University, he maintained the honor status required to retain the Knights of Columbus Scholarship awarded to him for scholastic achievement in high school.

He is a member of the New York

Classics Club, the Archaeological Institute of America, the American Philological Association and the International Society for the Study of Ancient Greek and Roman Music.

He was selected to be listed in the Dictionary of International Biography as well as Who's Who Among Intellectuals.

In the fall, Peter will attend the Brown University Graduate School as an A.M.-Ph.D. student where he will study at the prestigious Center for Old World Archaeology and Art.
