

A tight squeeze

The Dallas Photo Shop had its inaugural free Halloween costume portrait contest. Selected by Dallas Photo patrons, the winner was Shavertown resident Debra Ketchner, in a scarecrow outfit; second place went to Nicole Clemson of Dallas and third place to Christine Kazmierski of Hunlock Creek. First place prize was a 35 mm compact camera, film and developing; second and third place winners received a free enlargement. Dallas Photo Shop would like to thank all the Halloweeners and their parents for making the contest a great success.

The police chief will receive a five percent raise, earning $18,900, while patrolmen's salaries will increase $1,000 or 2.3 percent to $44,000.

Including $16,000 carried over from work not finished in 1994, the township expects to spend $30,000 on road repairs, while road equipment purchases are expected to come to $27,500.

The supervisors plan to pass the final budget at their December 19 meeting.

In other business the supervisors:

- Authorized treasurer Alvin Cragle to advertise for bids for a used unmarked police cruiser with low mileage.
- Appointed Sweet Valley resident John L. Young part-time patrolman, to work on an on-call basis for $7.50 per hour.

• Authorized resident Kathy O'Donnoghue to research the market for recyclables and costs of setting up a voluntary program similar to that operated by Lake Township.

"My family generates a lot of newsprint, aluminum and glass," she said. "Many of my friends have recycling programs in their towns and I think we should also."

"If we can provide this service to the township at no cost, we'll consider it," said David Sutton. "It's great that a resident has come forward to volunteer her time to help out."
