PSU honors campus benefactors

Generous friends of Penn State Wilkes-Barre were guests at a recent reception held to recognize members of The Hayfield Society, the campus's most prestigious gift club, an informal association of individuals and businesses who make annual contributions of $1,000 or more for student scholarships and aid, faculty and staff enrichment, academic programs, equipment and other critical needs of the Wilkes-Barre Campus.

Guests at the gala Penn State Event included Back Mountain residents, Don and Karen Cox, Chuck and Bobbie Steever, Robert Robinson and Ruth and Bob Post.

Seminary students honored for academic achievement

Three Wyoming Seminary students from the Back Mountain were recently recognized for superior academic achievement by being inducted into the school's chapter of the Cum Laude Society.

Jessica Fried of Dallas, Eric Emanski of Shavertown and Jennifer Savage of Harveys Lake were inducted into the society at a recent assembly.

The Cum Laude Society is a national honor society that recognizes academic excellence among independent-school students, who must have a junior-year average of at least 3.7 on a 4.0 scale, and have had no junior grade below a "C".

The Wyoming Seminary chapter, chartered in 1930, is composed of faculty, administrators, and students, who choose new members each year.

Complete internships at King's

Back Mountain residents John Kristan, Joseph Wozniak, Jr., and John Kasmark recently completed their fall internships through King's College at employment sites throughout Northeastern Pennsylvania. Kristan worked for Atty. Joseph Proziac, while Wozniak worked for Guy Bloch Ventures. Kasmark worked at The Citizens' Voice.
