

ANDY M. SUSZKO

Suszko named P&G plant manager at Mehoopany

Procter & Gamble has announced the appointment of A.M. (Andy) Suszko as Plant Manager at its paper products manufacturing facility at Mehoopany. Suszko has replaced Marla Hacker as manager of the Diaper Plant, one of the two plants of the Mehoopany Division, which makes Pampers and Luvs disposable diapers. Suszko is a native of Detroit, Michigan. He graduated from Michigan State University with a BS in Chemical Engineering and received his MS in Chemical Engineering from Stanford University. Andy has been employed with P&G since July 1974 and comes to the Mehoopany Plant from the Soap Division in Cincinnati. He also held positions in the Soap Division in Augusta, Georgia and Alexandria, Louisiana.

Andy and his wife, Betty, reside in Dallas with their three children, Karen, Drew and David. Betty is also employed with P&G, assigned to the computer systems organization. Andy enjoys golf, coaching Little League and is active in civic affairs.

Planning to help Santa

The Luzerne County Legal Auxiliary will hold its annual holiday meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday, December 7. Members and their guests will meet in the co-workers lounge in the basement of Boscov's in Wilkes-Barre in order to assist the Valley Santa Program with wrapping gifts. Following the wrapping session, members and their guests may participate in a cookie exchange at the home of Shelley Russin. Reservations are necessary for this meeting and may be made by calling Linda Brittain or Shelley Russin. Coordinating the meeting are Beth Rosenthal and Linda Brittain. Standing are Vivian Bednarz, Julie Schaub, and Kathy Shucosky.
