

Gingo

ting career will continue. At the present time East Stroudsburg and Millersville lead the list of possibilities.

Mike Heffron and Adam Hoover are the only other senior wrestlers for the up and coming Dallas team. Each was eliminated during the pre-regional tournament at Valley View this past weekend. With only the top four advancing to regionals, Hoover placed fifth at 171 and Heffron had to forfeit his bout for fifth at 119.

Fans and coaches of the Wyoming Valley Conference are counting on Gingo's career to last a few more weeks, but with high school winding down, Aaron found the time to credit his coaches of the past three years.

"(Kaschenbach's) a little laid back," said Gingo. "It's nice he's there, that somebody does care.

There's somebody to coach us every day."

"(Assistant coach) Billy Janosky, he's a fireplug and he pushes me hard."

"I enjoy his sense of humor and his dedication to the sport," said Kaschenbach of his star pupil. "It's always nice to have that type on your squad. He's nothing but a plus. What we need is five more, six more Aaron Gingos and we'd be in good shape."

At least one may be advancing through the Dallas system in the next couple of years. A younger brother, Matt, is presently participating in baseball, football and yes, wrestling. Aaron also has two older siblings. His brother Eric played soccer for Dallas and his sister Becky played field hockey.

PUBLIC NOTICES
"BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW"

(Editor's Note: Public Notice advertising plays a unique role both in American history and in the process by which this country's democracy is preserved. Its one premise is that people must be informed if they are to govern themselves competently. Public Notice advertising first came into being with the Congress of 1792. That body, recognizing its responsibility to the people, required the Postmaster General to advertise for bids for the construction of new post offices. From that auspicious beginning to the complex publication requirements in federal, state and local laws today, government officials have come more and more to understand their obligations to inform the public through Public Notice advertising. Newspapers over the years have been the vehicle by which these obligations have been fulfilled. They will continue to be as long as the public demands that it be informed frequently and by the best means possible.)
