

GFWC club special day is March 11

The General Federation of Women's Clubs (GFWC) Luzerne County, will host its annual Federation Day, March 11 at Boscov's, starting at 10 a.m.

All proceeds will be donated to the Wyoming Valley Children's Association to purchase electronic learning devices for handicapped children.

Each year, clubwomen from throughout Luzerne County combine their time, talents and resources to raise monies for local non-profit groups.

Since 1982, more than $200,000 has been raised for the Domestic Violence Service, Hospice St. John, the Sheriff's Search and Rescue Team, American Diabetes Association, the Kirby Marquets, the Association for Retarded Children, REACH, Make-A-Wish/Alzheimer Support Group, the SPCA, Child Development Council and the Victim's Resource Center.

Clubwomen will work at stands throughout Boscov's preparing and selling foods, spinning the cake wheel to chance off beautifully decorated cakes and selling delicious baked goods.

An "elegant/junque" stand (mini flea market), a craft booth, lottery tickets and instant bingo will also be featured.

A Kiddie City has been set up for kids to play games, do crafts, visit with famous characters and have their pictures taken with them. Pre-teens and teens can experience the new Rockin' Teen Arena. Mary Jude Swanson is the General Federation Day chairman, with Maureen Oremus as co-chairman and Nancy Wilson as Luzerne County president.

Early boat registration urged

Boaters who register their craft early can avoid processing delays, according to the Pennsylvania Fish and Boat Commission, the only state agency charged by law to regulate pleasure boating in the Commonwealth.

Pennsylvania law requires that all motorboats and all boats using Fish and Boat Commission lakes or access areas be registered.

Boat owners whose registrations expire at midnight March 31 are encouraged to beat the rush by filing for renewal promptly. Early registration is especially important for those who intend to use their craft during trout fishing season.

Processing applications requires time, says the Commission; those who procrastinate may not have validations by opening day (April 15).

Operating a boat without a required validation sticker could result in a fine.

Two-year registration fees for boat owners range from $10 for boats not equipped with motors to $40 for motorboats 20 feet or longer. Special fees apply to commercial and dealer registrations.

dils may take part in a side program called "Cheer." Their donations are accepted but flowers are sent to nursing homes and cancer patients in hospitals. This program has had some large contributions, such as the $5,000 arranged by Phil Decker of Hospice Community Care. A few more of these and the Society goal will surely be met and topped! Call 825-7763 for details.

Deadline for orders: March 10

The Society's local chapter is proud of their part in providing cancer education and early detection programs - valued at more than a quarter-million dollars - to almost 100,000 adults and youths throughout Wyoming Valley. None of this would have been possible without all their volunteer help.

Cancer Society is the largest

The United States has well over one million voluntary organizations, such as: hospitals, schools, libraries, orchestras, museums, historical societies, adoption services, drug and alcohol treatment centers and health associations. All run by volunteers on mostly donations, all non-profit.

High on this list is the American Cancer Society, started in 1913 with only 15 men. It is the largest, most influential and most effective private voluntary health organization in history.

Its goal was simple: total control of cancer as a disease of humankind, a seemingly unattainable objective. However over three-quarters of a century later the goal is within striking distance.

This organization has an amazing number of volunteers...close to 3,000,000! Some are motivated by a traumatic experience with cancer, in themselves or families or friends, or by their professional concerns (countless physicians are members) and they provide a driving force not found in any other volunteers.

Some are celebrities: Betty Ford, Gregory Peck, Raquel Welch, Lena Horne, and the late John Wayne. Former board chairman Judge Charles Ebersol has said that ACS volunteers have one thing in common: "When you move into a new community, I've been told there are two ways to make yourself at home quickly. Contact your church, and get in touch with your local unit of the American Cancer Society. They'll generally be the finest people in town."

The late president Dwight Eisenhower estimated that volunteer efforts multiplied the value of monetary gifts by a factor of four; that is, for every dollar given to a well-run, honorable, voluntary organization, the value returned to the public is four dollars.

Twenty-seven percent of each ACS dollar raised in money is given to research. Patient service takes 26% and Health Education 28%. Management is an amazing - paltry - 4% (Imagine these percentages without volunteers.)

Sarah Reynolds, field rep for the Wyoming Valley ACS unit, has thanked people for their generosity and says, "They should know we can help, with medication, with transportation, and with other things. More than half of the locally-raised money stays here to benefit our cancer patients and help educate the public."

Cancer Society volunteers have helped save millions of lives, and helped to create cancer societies in more than 100 other countries. This is truly effective dedication.
