

Surf the 'Net, do dinosaur DNA during Sem Summer

Area middle-school and high-school students will have the opportunity this summer to explore the world of the Internet at Wyoming Seminary.

The two-week course gives students the opportunity to learn how to work with programs such as Gopher, Telnet, and World Wide Web.

Along with exploring the Internet, this summer's schedule also consists of more than 50 courses, including programs in creative writing, video production and preparing for the SAT.

Sem Summer courses will be held from July 3 through July 28, with two week and four-week courses scheduled in the morning, afternoon and evening.

The very popular science discovery program returns for middle-school students; last year, more than 60 area students in grades 5 through 8 took part in courses such as "Amusement Park Physics," "Dinosaurs and DNA," and "Life on Earth." These hands-on courses feature field trips and laboratory work; young scientists get the chance to design and carry out their own experiments. Teachers from Wyoming Seminary and other area schools will join forces in the summer science programs.

Tuition varies by course; for more information on specific programs, or to receive a free brochure on the program, contact the summer programs office at Wyoming Seminary 283-6066.
