

ON CAMPUS

'Simpsons' illustrator at Misericordia

David Silverman, one of five animation directors behind the popular television series The Simpsons, will speak at College Misericordia on Monday, Oct. 2, at 8 p.m.

The presentation will take place in Walsh Auditorium and is free and open to the public.

David Silverman directs one of five teams of animators that bring the Simpson family to life each week. The Emmy Award-winning program requires the work of over a 100 animators to produce between 14,000 and 23,000 drawings, a process that takes six months.

In his presentation Silverman provides a behind-the-scenes look at the creativity and technology needed to produce animated films, as well as an insider's view of Bart Simpson and his famous family. In addition to his lecture, he brings along drawing materials and outtakes from the program.

Silverman studied animation and filmmaking at UCLA and did freelance cartoon illustration on the side. He earned his Master of Fine Arts degree at UCLA in 1983 and worked as a character designer on Saturday morning cartoons before joining a firm as animator and director. His work there caught the attention of the creator and producers of The Simpsons.

This presentation is part of Misericordia's 1995-96 Cultural Events program. For more information, call 674-6719.

College Misericordia to host Health Care Job Fair Oct. 5

The Office of Career Services at College Misericordia announces its 16th annual Job Fair for Health Professions, to be held October 5 at the Anderson Sports-Health Center from 7-9 p.m.

Recruiters from hospitals, clinics, rehabilitation centers and social service agencies are expected at the fair. While most recruiters represent local and eastern seaboard area organizations, past fairs have included representatives from all parts of the country.

Health care workers and students entering health professions and related areas are invited to come and talk with the recruiters about job opportunities. Nursing, physical therapy, occupational therapy and other majors are encouraged to attend the Job Fair.

For more information call the Office of Career Services at 674-6343, 674-6472 or 674-6409.

Wilkes to host craft show Oct. 8

Wilkes University CARES will be holding its annual craft show on October 8, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Arnaud C. Marts Sports and Conference Center, 274 S. Franklin St., Wilkes-Barre.

Approximately 60 vendors will be on hand selling everything from craft items to antiques & lithographs. The proceeds from the rental of tables to vendors will go to the Wilkes University CARES student and faculty organization. The organization is committed to the health education in the community, such as AIDS Awareness Week.

Free campus parking will be available, and refreshments will be served. For additional information call 831-4753 or 1-800-WILKES-U, ext 4753.

Dr. Nejib attends Air Force forum

Dallas resident Dr. Umid R. Nejib recently attended the 1995 National Security Forum at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Ala. Dr. Nejib teaches at Wilkes University.

The event was sponsored by the Secretary of the Air Force and hosted by the Air War College, the Air Force's senior school for professional military education. The school prepares selected colonels, lieutenant colonels and civilians for key command and staff assignments where they will be responsible for developing, managing and employing air and space power as a component of national security.

The guests represented a cross-section of leaders from the fields of business, industry, education, law, medicine, news media, religion and local government. The forum is designed to increase their understanding of the national security issues.
