DISTRICT COURT BRIEFS

Pair charged in burglary, more charges pending

Dallas Township resident Joseph Andrew Boback, 31, and Forty Fort resident William Leonard Gaines, 29, were charged April 3 with burglary, criminal trespass, theft by unlawful taking and criminal mischief in the April 1 burglary of Boback's parents' home at College Manor.

Additional charges against the pair and a third suspect, Swoyersville resident Brad Lopuhosky, who has not yet been charged, are pending, according to Forty Fort patrolman Eric Morgantini.

According to arrest warrant affidavits on file at District Justice James Tupper's office, Boback's parents, Joseph and Kathy Boback, discovered their home had been broken into when they returned from work. The glass sliding door had been forced open and the inside frame and window treatment were destroyed. A locked bedroom door had also been forced open.

Removed were personal items belonging to their son, including a pair of leather moccasins, two gold necklaces, a hunter green jacket, a car key and a book of checks.

The Bobacks identified their son as a suspect and told police he knows he isn't allowed on the property.

The investigation revealed that Boback and Gaines were seen carrying several bags of items from the College Manor home by the young woman who gave them a ride from Dallas to Gaines's home in Forty Fort at approximately 3:30 p.m. April 1. They left the bags at Gaines's Sullivan St. home.

When police served search and arrest warrants on the pair at Gaines's home, they also seized small amounts of suspected narcotics which field tested positive for marijuana and cocaine, numerous syringes, pipes containing residue and other drug paraphernalia.

Police also found a small amount of suspected marijuana and a syringe on Lopuhosky, who has not yet been charged in the incident. All evidence has been sent to the State Police crime lab for analysis.

Police recovered the moccasins, car key and jacket from the home, but the necklaces and book of checks weren't accounted for.

Assisting in the investigation were police from Swoyersville, Kingston and Forty Fort, and the State Police Research and Identification Unit.

Dallas Rotary celebrates 69th anniversary

The Dallas Rotary Club recently held its 69th anniversary dinner at Irem Temple Country Club. The featured speaker was the Governor of Rotary District 7410, Eugene (Gino) Marrazzo who spoke on the importance of the Paul Harris Rotary Foundation designed to promote international goodwill and understanding and eradicate polio completely from the earth. The Dallas Rotary Club at this time also recognized Joseph Stager for his many years of service to both Rotary and the Back Mountain. Stager was made a Paul Harris Fellow, its highest honor, when the Dallas Rotary Club donated $1,000 in his name to the Paul Harris Foundation. Dallas Rotary President James Reinert greeted Rotary District Governor Gino Marrazzo.

D.U.I. CHARGES SENT TO COUNTY COURT

Courtdale resident Fred Davis, 59, and Harveys Lake resident Edward Ungvarsky, 38, waived their rights to preliminary hearings on charges of D.U.I. April 4 before District Justice James Tupper.

Davis was arrested Feb. 10 by Kingston Township officer James Ibbotson after Ibbotson observed him driving erratically on Route 309. Police followed him south on the highway through the rock cuts to the parking lot of Wasserott's, where Ibbotson and police from Luzerne and Courtdale pulled him over.

He refused to perform field sobriety tests. A blood test showed his blood alcohol level to be .211, more than twice the legal limit of .10.

A related citation for careless driving was dismissed, according to court records. Davis was represented by attorney Bruce Anders.

Ungvarsky was arrested Feb. 19 by Pennsylvania State Police Trooper Joseph Wasko after Ungvarsky was involved in a one-car accident on Hillside Road in Jackson Twp.

After failing field sobriety tests, he took a blood test which showed his blood alcohol level to be .183.

Represented by attorney Basil Russin, Ungvarsky is free on $300 bail. Related citations for careless driving, driving at an unsafe speed and failing to stay in the proper driving lane were dismissed, according to court records.

CHARGES DISMISSED

Charges of writing bad checks and theft by deception against Dallas Township resident Paulette Huey, 50, were dismissed after she paid full restitution to the complainant, who decided not to prosecute the case further, according to court records.
