Fresh flowers brighten any interior decor

The sight of fresh flowers in the house is one of life's better pleasures. It's a fragrant, non-lattening feast for the senses that can also be absolutely affordable, if the flowers come right from your own back yard.

Many flowers found in the summer garden make excellent cut flowers. Annuals and perennials such as snapdragons, daisies, zinnias, and of course, peonies and roses are old favorites. Perhaps the most intriguing offerings, however, can be found among the summer-flowering bulbs.

Summer bulbs are the source of many of the prized and even exotic cut flowers found at fine florists. Among these, the best known surely are the stunning Asiatic and Oriental lilies, dramatic gladioli, and the many incarnations of dahlia. In addition there are many other tempting selections such as delicate swan-like acidanthera, outrageous autumnums and allium, sophisticated calla and lilia, and colorful anemones.
