LEHMAN - Lake-Lehman High School will kick off its annual homecoming festivities Saturday, October 12, at the Edward Edwards stadium around 1:30 p.m. Before the 2 p.m. game, the Homecoming Queen will be crowned and the class floats will be judged.

Every year, each of the four classes completes a float according to the year's theme. This year, the classes were each to choose a country and decorate their float accordingly.

The Homecoming Court is chosen by the senior class. On Tuesday, the seven girls were introduced to the high school. On Wednesday, the entire school will vote on which girl will be Homecoming Queen.

This year's court includes seven young women instead of the usual six because of a tie. Cheerleader coach Sandy Dobrowski, who is overseeing the festivities, hopes that last year's queen, Jessica Pickett, will be able to return and crown her successor.

The following is a review of the 1996 candidates for Homecoming Queen.

Christina Farrell, daughter of Dennis and Donna Farrell of Hunlock Creek, plays both field hockey and soccer at Lake-Lehman. Farrell is also a member of the National Honor Society and enjoys skiing in her free time. Farrell would like to go away to college to pursue a major in either speech therapy or special education.

Winter Rusiloski, daughter of Stan and Pat Rusiloski of Shavertown, is captain of the football cheerleaders, managing editor of the student paper, Knightlife, and a member of the National Honor Society. Rusiloski works part time on weekends at Grotto Pizza. She also teaches dance at the Major Performing Arts Center. In her free time, Rusiloski takes gymnastic lessons and draws and paints. She hopes to attend Kutztown University next fall to pursue a major in Related Arts with either a concentration in dance or art.

Katie Martin plays flute in the Lake-Lehman band and has been selected for State Orchestra two years and All-Eastern Orchestra this year. She also is a member of the National Honor Society and works part time at Insalaco's. Martin says she would like to participate in more activities, but that "band, studying and work Martin would like to attend the New England Conservatory to major in music performance. She is the daughter of Richard and Jeanette Martin of Shavertown.

Erin Snell, daughter of Christine and Michael Snell of Harveys Lake, is a lifeguard at the Catholic Youth Center on weekends and during the summer. At Lake-Lehman, Snell plays field hockey. She is a member of the National Honor Society and has been selected by Who's Who Among American High School Students. Although unsure about which college she would like to attend, Snell would like to pursue a major in marine biology.

Heidi Sprau, daughter of Howard and Maureen Sprau of Sweet Valley, plays field hockey and is a member of the yearbook staff. She has served on the prom committee and has gained membership to the National Honor Society. Sprau likes to run, exercise, and draw during her free time. She also babysits. She would like to major in child psychology or therapy in college and is looking at schools in Vermont.

Melissa Morrow of Harveys Lake, daughter of Charles Morrow and Donna Lamoreaux, is a cheerleader for both the football and basketball teams. Morrow also serves on the student council and the yearbook staff. She plans to attend college and hopes to be a chiropractor.

Debbie White, daughter of Joseph and Anne White of Harveys Lake, plays field hockey and soccer, is a wrestling cheerleader and manager, and is Student Council President. White is also a staff writer for the school newspaper, a peer helper and peer tutor, and teaches Spanish to third grade students at the elementary school. White is a member of the National Honor Society. In the summer, she works at The Funnel Cake Haus at Harveys Lake. White hopes to attend a Division I school for field hockey where she plans to pursue a major in psychology or counseling.

New law removes jail time from punishment options

JACKSON TWP. - At the regular monthly meeting of the Jackson Township Supervisors, board members Walter Glogowski, Carl Aston, and John Wilkes Jr. voted unanimously to pass the proposed Umbrella Ordinance, which changes some criminal violations to civil violations.

Under the new ordinance, violators will no longer be sentenced to jail time. For example, first-time violators of the burning ordinance are now fined $300. If that fine goes unpaid, the violator could then be sentenced to 30 days in prison. Under the new ordinance, no jail time would be served. The township will now only have the power to increase fines.

Wilkes also reported that road projects within the township that were started on January 10 as a result of flooding will be finished in a few weeks, weather permitting. Projects completed include fixed curbing and ditch work in the Fieldcrest Development and drainage and ditch work on Weavertown Road and Mountain Road.

Before the project is completed, the township will replace a drainage pipe on Cigarski Road and replace a drainage pipe and two catch basins on Mizdale Road. The township is being assisted with these projects by workers from the Federal Emergency Management Association at no extra cost to the township, according to Wilkes. Wilkes also said that the agency's goal is to do work that will prevent flooding in the future.

The supervisors also voted to purchase a 1990 GMC truck from Kingston Township for $12,500. Henry Zbiek, secretary, reported that the truck has both a spreader and a snow plow.

Chairman Glogowski reported that the Back Mountain Communication Center completed its 1997 budget at no extra cost to the township. The township's contribution is $12,000 per year. Assistant Police Chief Jerry Leedock recommended that the supervisors vote to hire Ben Bigus and Jack Haley as part-time police officers pending successful completion of physical and mental examinations. Both Bigus and Haley worked for Lehman Township. Leedock told board members that they "did a good job for Lehman." The board approved the recommendation.

The board also voted to hire Maureen Magolski as housekeeper for the township building after a one week trial period passed successfully.

Wilkes announced that water problems on Huntsville Road will be corrected by the Pennsylvania Department of Transportation because the road is a state highway. During the winter months, water was running onto the road and freezing. Secretary Zbiek said the problem will most likely be corrected with ditch work.

Wilkes informed Leedock that residents on Chase Road have been complaining about speeding on weekends. Wilkes said he believes the problem is with transient travelers through the township who are unaware of the township's speed traps and asked that Leedock have officers patrol the area during the weekends.

The supervisors voted to send Zoning Officer John Krupa to a training seminar in the Allentown area. Krupa announced that it was a "good month" for issuing building permits. Three new homes were accepted, as well as one residential garage. Permits were issued to several homeowners who are doing roofing projects in anticipation of a bad winter.
