

Bank exhibits Barilla's art

Artwork by Dallas artist John Barilla will be on display in the lobby of Mellon Bank, Main Street, Dallas through the middle of November.

Barilla has won more than 100 art awards in various contests, including the Fine Arts Fiesta, the Suzanne Maria Rossetti Juried Art Show.

On exhibit at the bank are several award-winning pieces, including a detailed colored pencil rendering of Thomas Jefferson, a large graphite drawing of two boys playing baseball and a mixed media rendering of an oversized pine cone.

Barilla is a junior at Bishop O'Reilly High School, Kingston and has been studying art since the third grade with Sue Hand. He has also studied with Andrew Johnson, John O'Connell, Christopher Kuhar and the Bishop O'Reilly art department. He has been featured in many newspaper stories and a segment on the local Catholic television station. He is a teaching assistant at Sue Hand's Imagery and resides in Dallas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Barilla.

So, how are you going to pick your health care plan?

With so many health plans making the same old claims about "quality" care, it might seem like picking the right one is simply a hit-or-miss proposition. But choosing your family's health care coverage is too important for you to rely on empty promises. You need facts. Like the fact that with Geisinger Health Plan, the decisions about your health care are made by physicians, not accountants. Or the fact that with GHP you can choose from more than 1400 physicians and specialists in nearly 100 local communities. Why not call us at 1-800-631-1656 and get our free brochure with all the facts? It just might help you make a better choice.

Just The Facts.
