

Girl Scouts tour New England

Cadette Troop 677 from Gate of Heaven School went on a six day, five night trip to Boston, Plymouth and Cape Cod this summer. The 12 girls and three leaders walked the Freedom Trail, sailed on the USS Constitution, rode the Boston subways and boats with a train ride to the "witch" town of Salem. They visited the New England Aquarium, Boston Tea Party, Bunker Hill, the site of the Boston Massacre, Paul Revere's House and the famous Old North Church.

After seeing 18 whales on Captain John's whale watch in Plymouth they spent a day at the beach and sightseeing Plymouth Plantation. An expedition on the boat Oceanquest along with visiting the labs of Woods Hole Biological Institute gave us first hand learning about sea life.

Artists will exhibit in Dallas

The Pennsylvania En Plein Air Society will hold their 4th Annual Members' Exhibit from Oct. 27 through Nov. 2 at Sue Hand's Imagery, Main Street, Dallas.

Over 30 members will exhibit their most recent artworks featuring local scenes and vacation landscapes painted in the tradition of "en plein air," a classical French term meaning "in the open air." All of the artwork is created outside, on location. "We paint light, weather, atmosphere, and our reaction to our subjects as well as the view itself," says Sue Hand, founder and chairperson of the Society. The paintings and drawings will represent a variety of media, including oil, alkyd, watercolor, graphite, pastel and mixed media. The exhibitors range in experience from professional artists to hobbyists and art students, but all are dedicated to the art of plein air painting.

Local members of the Pennsylvania En Plein Air Society include: Charlotte Arbogast, Dallas; Henry Doran, Shavertown; Jean Fader, Dallas; Lowry Puckey, Dallas; Margaret Borton, Shavertown; Diane Chollak, Harveys Lake; Helene Curdin, Dallas; Mertie Larish, Dallas; Melanie Madeira, Shavertown; William Runner, Shavertown and Ann Searfoss, Carverton.

The public is invited to an artists' reception on Sunday, Oct. 27 from 2 p.m.-5 p.m. with a gallery talk presented at 3 p.m. The display may be viewed during special exhibit hours at Sue Hand's Imagery: Mon.-Thurs., 9-9; Fri.-Sat. 9-4. Private gallery tours of the En Plein Air exhibit will be available Oct. 29-Nov. 2. For more information concerning the Pennsylvania En Plein Air Society or the exhibit, call 675-5094.
