meeting with House members and make sure we all have the same goals. I'll be a full-time representative and can take the time necessary to get fully indoctrinated."

Moderator: Ms. Mundy what would you concentrate on first?

Mundy: "That needs to be plural. When we are back in session I will try to get several pending bills passed, and start working again on the PACE program."

QUESTION NO. 4.

Moderator: Mr. James, with all the recent emphasis on family values, would you describe your family for us?

James: "I trust my family speaks for itself. My wife, Kathy, who was a Charney, supports me fully and reminds me to 'tell them what you'll do.' We have five great kids: Bill, 22; Heather, 18; Kelly, 15; Molly, 14; Kristina, 7 and if our dog Blackie counts, he is 9."

Moderator: Ms. Mundy, your turn.

Mundy: "I divide my family into 'external' and 'internal.' The externals are my Mom and Dad in Florida, their name was Block and Dad was a plant manager for Nelson Furniture. They came north recently so he could run my campaign for re-election. I love them dearly. My sister and I are close too, and my 25-year old son Brian is the apple of my eye. Of course I am prejudiced in his case. His lovely wife April is the daughter I never had. I love them all."

QUESTION NO. 5.

Moderator: Mr. James what do you think of your chances at this late date?

James: "Excellent! There are a lot of issues for folks to consider if they just take a good look."

Moderator: Ms. Mundy, your chances?

Mundy: "Quite good."

QUESTION NO. 6.

Moderator: What do you think of your party's presidential chances?

James: "I can answer that by saying I don't believe in polls. At every meeting I address I always ask for a show of hands from those who have been polled. Without fail, I never see a single hand raised!"

Moderator: Ms. Mundy, your party's presidential chances?

Mundy: "Quite good." After some laughter by both moderator and candidate, she adds, "Seriously, it depends on the turnout. I hope for a good one. As a Past President of the League of Women Voters, I know how important turnout can be."

QUESTION NO. 7.

Moderator: Mr. James how would you sum up your campaign? You have 90 seconds.

James: "I would ask voters to consider whether they are satisfied with education (and strikes) in the areas? Do they want tax reform and property tax reduction? If they give themselves honest answers they'll know how to vote. As for my campaign, I am grateful for all the help and support I have received. I would do it the same way again but that won't be necessary."

Moderator: Ms. Mundy? You have 90 seconds.

Mundy: "I am very grateful, and very proud, of my support. We had a great mailing with a wonderful letter written by Harold Rosenn. There were some good TV spots too. Oh, and there were thousands of phone calls by volunteers. I am very satisfied."
