High school play rescheduled Nov. 26-27

The Dallas Senior High School will present its fall play on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 26 and 27. The production will take place at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Due to the recent mercury spill, the play was postponed from its original dates of the November 22 and 23. Mr. Hopkins would like to thank the cast and crew and the entire district staff for their hard work and cooperation that has enabled the play to be presented prior to the Thanksgiving holiday.

This performance of The Curious Savage marks the 10th anniversary of the play's first performance at Dallas. The cast is looking forward to providing alumni the opportunity to see the play again.

The comedy should provide a great way to start the holiday festivities because it combines slapstick farce and high comedy that is suitable for the whole family. The audience is left with the feeling that the often neglected virtues of kindness, affection and understanding have not been entirely lost in a world that sometimes seems to be motivated only by greed and dishonesty.

The two-act comedy by John Patrick is about Mrs. Savage, who has inherited $10 million from her late husband. With her inheritance, Mrs. Savage plans to establish a memorial fund for her husband. Her stepchildren, who can't wait to get their hands on the money, commit Mrs. Savage to a sanitarium in the hope of forcing her to hand the money over to them.

While at the sanitarium, Mrs. Savage meets and becomes friends with five social misfits. Comedy ensues with the various crazy antics and quirks of the five friends.

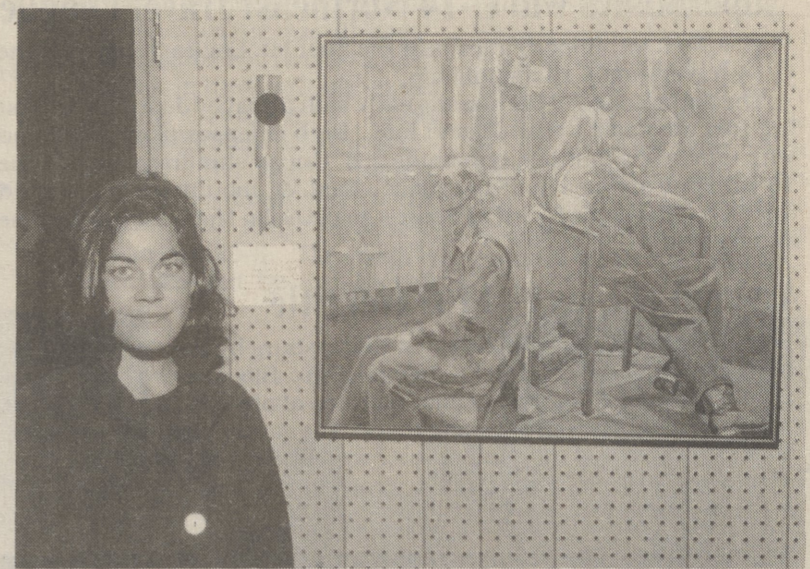

With the help of the fivesome, a doctor, and a nurse, Mrs. Savage is able to play tricks on her three stepchildren and save her memorial fund.

The play is directed by Donald Hopkins, assisted by Audrey Ide. Seniors in the cast and crew include stage manager Tracy Jones and cast members Kristen Faerber, Joy Morgan, Allison Piazza, Allison Rothstein, and Robert Webb. Tickets for the production are $3 at the door.
