Mature driving courses available

An AARP 55 Alive/Mature Driving Course is scheduled for Tuesday evenings, April 22 and 29, at the Wilkes-Barre Area Vocational-Technical School. The class meets from 6 to 10 p.m. each evening and is open to drivers age 50 and over.

Taught by Pat Pisaneschi, the course focuses on strategies to reduce driving risks. All instructors are AARP volunteers with are also over 50 and are experiencing or anticipating changes in vision, hearing, reaction time, and physical flexibility. They discuss mutual concerns of older drivers with participants.

Pennsylvania recognizes the value of reducing risks for senior drivers, and state legislation makes drivers over age 55 eligible for a 5% reduction in auto insurance rates after course completion. Spouses over 55 who drive on the same policy must also participate in the course to qualify for the discount.

Cost for the course is $8 payable by check to AARP at the first session. Participants must also bring a valid driver's license to the first class.

Call the WB AVTS evening program at 822-4131 to make reservations. Enrollment is limited.

'King Midas' graces the stage April 17 & 18

Rebecca Styulinski, 15, of Trucksville and Courtney Dombroski, 13 years old of Dallas, are two of the Back Mountain youth who will star in "King Midas" on April 17 and 18. Rebecca is the daughter of Stephen and Marilyn Styulinski and a 10th grader at Dallas High School. She will play the lead role of King Midas. Courtney is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Dombroski, and a seventh grader at Gate of Heaven. "King Midas" is being produced along with "The Little Mermaid" in NE Jr. Players annual Spring musical theatre fairytale production program. Last spring, the Players presented "Winnie-The-Pooh".

As King Midas, Rebecca plays the King whose greed takes over as the focus in his life, letting his family go, not paying attention to his daughters and so on. He learns his lesson of greed the hard way. When Glenna, the exotic sorceress appears, played by Courtney and she grants the King his greatest wish—to be able to turn anything he wants into gold, the story turns sad when King Midas accidentally turns his own daughter into gold.

"King Midas" and "Little Mermaid" will be presented in two family performances, Thursday and Friday, April 17 and 18, at 6 p.m.

both evenings, at the First Presbyterian Church Theatre, located on the corner of Northampton and S. Franklin Streets in Wilkes-Barre. Tickets are just $4 per person and available by calling the Box Office at 675-4333. Tickets will be sold at the door only if the shows do not sell out prior to curtain.

Other Back Mountain youth who will perform in "King Midas" and "Little Mermaid" include Jamie and Sarah Bozenta of Trucksville, Debbie Greenhalgh of Dallas, Josh and Zach Halbing of Dallas, Emily Mandell of Dallas, Brianna McLaughlin of Dallas, Jennifer Opel of Dallas, Erika and Andrea Steele of Sweet Valley, Alex Styulinski of Trucksville, Erin and Sarah Sweptston of Dallas, Alison Taroli of Dallas, Cara Symons of Shavertown and Austin Williams of Hunlock Creek.

Dallas resident Deirdre McLaughlin is serving as a Student Director on this project, while Andrea Steele of Sweet Valley served as Student Choreographer.

Gina Major Ackerman also of Dallas served as Producer and Supervising Director, while Kate Taroli of Dallas serves as President of the Executive Committee of this non-profit youth theatre company.

Cathy Swebston of Dallas served as costume designer.

Rebecca Styulinski, Trucksville and Courtney Dombroski, Dallas.
