Harveys Lake to dedicate historical marker June 22

An official State marker to recognize the historical significance of Harveys Lake will be dedicated at the Harveys Lake Borough building on Sunday, June 22, 1997 at 1:30 p.m.

The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission in Harrisburg, Harveys Lake Borough Council, the Pennsylvania Humanities Council in Philadelphia, and the Wyoming Historical and Geological Society in Wilkes-Barre are sponsoring the official marker.

Harveys Lake was discovered by the West Nanticoke settler Benjamin Harvey in 1781. By the early 1900s, with the Lehigh Valley Railroad train to the lake's Alderson section and a separate trolley line to Sunset, the lake was among the State's premier resort regions. Steamboats provided passenger service around the lake and to the amusement park which was operated between 1891 and 1984.

The State historical commission, along with local sponsors, erects official state markers to recognize the State's most important sites, events and people. The Harveys Lake marker was nominated by lake historian F. Charles Petrillo, vice-president of the Wyoming Historical and Geological Society.

Financial support for the marker is provided by the borough council and the Pennsylvania Humanities Council.

The June 22 ceremony will be at the Harveys Lake Borough building on Route 415 at Sunset near the entrance to the lake.

Borough Mayor Richard Boice and council president Francis Kopko along with a state commission and historical society representative will provide brief remarks followed by the unveiling of the marker.
