Auction can use your old books

Believe it or not, the Back Mountain Memorial Library could use your books for this year's auction. Staff member and book booth chairman Jeff Matus said the booth could make especially good use of non-fiction books in good condition, such as "how-to" volumes, sports, history, cookbooks etc. There is always more demand for this type of title than supply. Recent reference books are also a popular item. Novels, especially classics or relatively new ones, also go well.

If you would like to donate one or many volumes to the 51st library auction, which takes place July 10-13, just bring them to the library during regular business hours: 9:30 a.m.-8:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and Saturdays 9:30-5:30.
