

Anjali Udoshi named Sem's Student of the Month for May

Wyoming Seminary senior Anjali Udoshi, daughters of Drs. Mallikarjun and Geeta Udoshi of Dallas, graduated from Wyoming Seminary on June 1 and was named Student of the Month for May by the Kingston Lions Club.

ANJALI UDOSHI

Udoshi received The President's Award for Outstanding Service during the commencement ceremony at the school. During her academic career at Sem, she received many awards and honors including the John G. Ruggles II Memorial Prize for Creative Writing; was a National French Contest winner; received the Edwin J. Roberts Memorial Prize for Outstanding Latin Scholarship; and was named to the Dean's List with High Honors for all four years at Sem.

She was a member of the Cum Laude Society, was a National Merit Commended student and received the ETS AP Scholar Award. She was a Student Government Officer, features editor for the school newspaper The Opinator, was the literary magazine editor-in-chief, was co-founder and co-editor-in-chief for the student news magazine, and was on the staff and business manager for the Yearbook Committee. She was a member of Model U.N., was a member of the chorale, and was involved in community service projects including the Student Government Thanksgiving Project, the Salvation Army Christmas Project, and volunteered for the Crop Walk and the March of Dimes.

Udoshi received first-place in the Wyoming Valley Poetry Contest; won two gold cups for Junior Mozart Piano Festival; was a semifinalist in the National Library of Poetry contest; was inducted into the International Poetry Society; had a selection of her poetry published in Whispers at Dusk, and is a seven-year member of the National Piano Playing Guild.

She is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Udoshi plans to attend Wellesley College in the fall.
