

Pocono Orienteering Club to hold annual canoe event

The Pocono Orienteering Club (POC) will hold its annual canoe orienteering event Sat., Aug. 2, at Frances Slocum State Park near Trucksville.

Participants can register and start between 10 a.m. and noon at the public boat launch area. The entry fee is $5 per person for non-members. A short and long course will be available.

Participants can rent canoes from the park's concession or they can bring their own. Nine free canoes will be available from POC on a first-come, first-served basis. Kayaks are welcome for individual competitors. Life vests are required. Compasses can be rented for 50 cents.

In this event, participants will use their boating and navigational skills to locate control locations along the park's shoreline. Some foot travel will be required since the controls will be several yards into the forest. The event will be held regardless of weather.

To get to the park, take Route 309 to Trucksville, turn onto Carverton Road and follow the state park signs. Once in the park, follow the orange and white directional arrows to the boat launch area.

For more information, contact Larry Pedersen at 646-9609 or Sid Halsor at 696-4413.

Youth theater production slates auditions for Madeline

Gina Major Ackerman, owner and director of Major Performing Arts Centers, is pleased to announce that she will produce a special musical theater event for youngsters aged seven through 12 years of age who would like to learn about theatre production and acting.

The program will be conducted "workshop" style, giving participants the opportunity to work hands-on not only with a director, musicians, choreographer, but also with the costume designer, the set designer, and so on.

Due to the set number of roles in the show the children will present, "The Musical Adventures of Madeline", at the end of the workshops in October, 1997, a limited number of youth can be accepted for this program. Roles are open for Madeline, her 11 schoolmates, several teachers (nuns), a butler, one boy, and the possibility of added roles should there be a large turnout.

Auditions will be held on Thurs., Aug. 7 in Trucksville and on Fri., Aug. 8 in Pittston.

Auditions will be conducted as a "learning" experience for the children who register. There is no cost to audition. Each child will be asked to sing a simple song of their choice, act out a simple line or two from the show, and possibly try a few dance steps if the role calls for it.

This production is offered in cooperation with NE Junior Players, Wyoming Valley's non-profit youth theatre company. A membership fee of $60 will be required along with some assistance from parents on costuming, etc. and tickets purchased. All fees go directly to NE Junior Players. To register for an audition, call the NE Jr. Players hotline, 717-675-4333.
