Promise Keepers to come to Frances Slocum Aug. 9

In the past four years men, in small groups, have responded to a call from outside our area to learn how to rebuild their lives for the betterment of their families, communities, employers, etc.

Promise Keepers has been able, through their conferences to change the hearts and minds of hundreds of thousands of men across America regardless of race, age, religious affiliation, occupation, education or marital status. This is being accomplished by men keeping promises, working together, being accountable to each other along with reaching out to their families and communities.

The men from our area are looking to have a conference here in N.E. PA in 1998 for those who couldn't attend the conferences already held. Also, it would renew the commitments they have already made. This group does need your help and support.

If you would like to learn more about us, we the Promise Keepers of N.E. PA are inviting you to Frances Slocum State Park in Kingston Township on Sat., Aug. 9 from 9 a.m. till closing.

Also if you have attended any of their conferences we invite you to come and share your experiences.
