

Students of the Month at Dallas

The second Student of the Month awards were recently presented to four Dallas High School students. The awards are sponsored by the Parent Teacher Student Association. Each student received a $50 savings bond donated by Drs. Scott and Clements, whose dental offices are located in Dallas.

Temperine, 17, is involved in field hockey, cross country, swimming and track. Williams, 17, is involved in color guard, newspaper, art club, History Day, bridge club, elementary tutoring, National Honor Society and math competition club. Zinn, 15, is involved in elementary tutoring and student council. He was a volunteer at the Riverside Rumble and works as a counselor at Camp Kresge during the summer. Cave, 17, is a member of the junior steering committee, softball team and a guidance office helper. She is on the honor roll.

new mystery. This becomes a superior puzzle wrapped in her most exciting adventure yet; a stellar performance on every count, an unusual puzzle.

"Felix in the Underworld" by John Mortimer begins when Felix receives a tape in the mail which reveals the sad tale of Gavin, a man whose life was destroyed by PROD. Shortly thereafter, Felix hears Gavin on a radio phone-in, and a few days later meets him at a book-signing. He meets Miriam, who assures Felix that he is the father of her child, Ian. He receives a huge bill for Ian's maintenance.

"Bomb Grade" by Brian Freemantle features Charlie Muffin who goes undercover in the Russian mafia to unravel a major nuclear smuggling operation—intelligent, non-stop action makes this the best spy novel yet. Russia is falling apart. The economy is in shambles, and the police hold very little power. On the brink of chaos, only organized crime gets results. The Russian mafia control everything.

FENTON

Cranberry ... made with pure gold in the formula

The master craftsmen at Fenton create rich Cranberry the way it was done 100 years ago. A core of gold ruby glass on the end of a hollow blow pipe is encased in a layer of sparkling crystal and then handblown to its final shape for a classically beautiful work of art.

Handmade in the U.S.A. since 1905

BUSINESS TECHNOLOGY PROGRAM

This program is designed to present the student with the entry level skills necessary to work in an office setting as an administrative assistant, an executive secretary, a secretary/receptionist, and in many other multi-skilled office positions. The Business technology student will be trained in specific skills related to employment in the modern computerized office environment. Classroom instruction includes data entry, word processing, spreadsheets, bookkeeping, business English and math, basic accounting and payroll procedures, office procedures office simulations, management and supervision, communication skills, basic CPR/First Aid and career development. Also included is instruction and practical experience on various types of computer software programs including the Windows environment.

This program is comprised of three modules of six weeks (evening modules are thirteen weeks) including classroom theory and practical experience followed by a fourth module of externship in a business environment. In addition, each student must successfully complete an office simulation course and the Career Development course prior to the start of the Externship. Upon successful completion of this program, graduates will be qualified to work in a variety of business offices performing computer, clerical and administrative duties for executives or administrative personnel. In some office environments, the graduate may also serve as the office manager. The need for well-trained multi-skilled professional office employees is expected to grow throughout the year 2005. Details regarding certification may be obtained from the school director. REQUIREMENTS: (730 HOURS)
