

Dallas, Lake-Lehman students in 'transition' programs

During the month of November, students at Lake-Lehman High School have been involved with Luzerne Intermediate Unit Transition Program. "Transition activities are activities that help students prepare for life after high school. It is exposure, exploration, and preparation for adult life," stated Brian Novicki, LIU Transition Specialist assigned to the Lake-Lehman School District. Students attended a "Preview Day" at Johnson Technical Institute, where they explored the automotive, architecture and carpentry departments; went on a tour to the Tobyhanna Army Depot, exposed to the workings of the electronics industry; and visited Proctor and Gamble, where they learned about the production processes of paper products. Another aspect of the transition program is non-paid job training at area participating companies. Some of the Lake-Lehman students had the opportunity to receive job training at Mountain Fresh Supermarket, Pikes Creek.

In Dallas, Ed Clarke, Transition Specialist for the Luzerne Intermediate Unit, arranged for CTE, Inc. (Commonwealth Telephone Enterprises, Incorporated) to visit the Dallas Area Sr. High School and speak to high school and middle school students on how to look for and be successful with employment opportunities.

Susan Hosage, Employment Manager, CTE, Inc., and Sue Killian, Employment Strategist, CTE, Inc., conducted "mock interviews" to the audience of students showing the proper interviewing techniques to use when meeting with a prospective employer.

Hosage and Killian also reviewed the many types of jobs available at their company. Students left with a better insight on the job market today and the skills needed for employment after high school.

Anyone interested in the Transition Program in the Dallas School District can contact Ed Clarke at 287-9681, Ext. 132.

Westmoreland Book Fair

The students of Westmoreland Elementary School recently enjoyed a week long Book Fair sponsored by their PTO. Students were able to purchase a variety of books from the Troll Company. Students from the lower grade levels were paid a visit by the Grumpy Bunny character and had a story read to them. To conclude the Book Fair, there was a Troll Book Fair Contest in which three students names were randomly drawn with each winner receiving $35 in free books and a tote bag. Pictured with school principal, Mrs. Kathleen McCarthy are the winners: Lee Kozokas, Mrs. Jones's class; Elizabeth Heintz, Mr. Shaver's class; Stephanie Kiluk, Mrs. Faerber's class.
