Emergency Medical Services Week

Emergency Medical Services... Your Vital Link, working to make a difference every day.

May 17-23 is the national observance of Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Week. EMS is a system of care, the Vital Link, for victims of sudden or serious illness or injury. This system includes the emergency medical services team at the Penn State Geisinger Wyoming Valley Medical Center, and also the many front line emergency personnel who work each day to make initial assessments of emergency situations, respond accordingly, and get the patients to the hospital as quickly as possible.

In emergency situations, seconds count. Prompt and proper response by your local ambulance crews, emergency medical technicians and paramedics saves lives and contributes greatly to recovery.

To celebrate National Emergency Services Week 1998, the Penn State Geisinger Wyoming Valley Medical Center and its emergency services department would like to thank all of the emergency personnel out in the field who do so much every day for the people we serve.
