Graduation

an emotional speech in which a few tears were shed. When asked later, she replied, "I never thought I'd be so emotional today" Awards were then presented by Mr. Robert O. Roberts, the Middle Level principal. Jennifer Klaips received the valedictorian award, and Joanne White received the salutatorian award. Ryan Mahle and Carrie Race were the male and female recipients of the citizenship awards. Darby Wolfe received the James L. Nicholas award, and Daniel Dulebohn and Kelly Cave were the male and female recipients of the Joseph "Red" Jones Leadership/Citizenship awards.

Dr. William E. Price, superintendent of the school district, gave a few words on success and presented the graduates, while Lois Kopcha, president of the school board awarded the diplomas and Mr. Frederick E. Sponenburg, assistant high school principal, gave the roll call of 154 graduating seniors.

When all of the seniors were given their diplomas, Mr. Oliver took to the podium one more time to say his goodbyes to the class of '98. After giving their caps to the air, the band properly sent the seniors on their way with the traditional "Marche Pontifical," and away they "marched" into their futures. To all the graduates, congratulations!
