

DISTRICT COURT BRIEFS

DRUG POSSESSION CHARGED

Harveys Lake resident Jennifer Elliot, 19, was arrested June 11 by Harveys Lake Borough patrolman James Karlowicz after police were called to Elliot's residence for a possible drug overdose.

Elliot was taken to Wilkes-Barre General Hospital where she was treated. Her parents told police that she had been at Chris Santee's house. Santee said Elliot was at his house after going on a car ride with another friend. During the ride, the two used heroin from which Elliot got sick, Santee said, according to police reports.

During a search of Elliot's parent's home, where she lives, police found a razor blade, a tourniquet, a blue piece of wax paper with residue and three pieces of plastic with residue.

Elliot is charged with possession of a controlled substance and drug paraphernalia. She waived her right to a preliminary hearing before District Justice James Tupper.

patrolman James Karlowicz after police observed him driving erratically on Sunset Hill.

After failing field sobriety tests, Segrave-Daly was taken to Wilkes-Barre General Hospital where his blood alcohol level was determined to be .122. He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and failing to keep right. Related charges of failure to drive at a safe speed, careless driving and reckless driving were dismissed.

SIMPLE ASSAULT

Sweet Valley resident Emory Arthur Wolfe, 30, was arrested June 4 by State Trooper James L. Pugh after police responded to a domestic dispute. Upon arrival police learned that Wolfe struck Dana Reed Burkholder several times with an aluminum baseball bat. Wolfe was charged with simple assault. Related charges of aggravated assault and harassment were dismissed.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Wilkes-Barre resident Thomas James McDonough Moore, 19, was arrested June 27 by Harveys Lake Borough patrolman James Karlowicz after police responded to a domestic dispute in Hemlock Gardens. McDonough Moore was driving a van with Cerise Roberts and her 20-month baby at a fast rate of speed and jumped out of the van while it was still moving.

He was charged with recklessly endangering another person, disorderly conduct, public drunkenness and purchasing alcohol as a minor. Related charges of harassment, theft, endangering the welfare of children and burglary were dismissed.

Philadelphia resident Justin Wagner, 23, was arrested April 29 by Dallas Township patrolman Jeffrey Dennis after police responded to a noise disturbance at Country Club Apartments. Wagner, who was a co-leaser of the apartment, had a party with his roommate Joseph Harvey.

Police observed many underage drinkers and Wagner told them that he paid for all the alcohol present. He pled guilty to disorderly conduct. A related charge of conspiracy to furnish alcohol to minors was dismissed.

ROBBERY

Trucksville resident John W. Beacham, 20, was arrested May 23 by Dallas Borough patrolman William Norris after police responded to a call from the Dallas Village Shopping Center for a theft.

Lorraine Leonard, a Rite-Aid cashier told police that a man came in and asked her for a dollar bill for four quarters. He told Leonard that she dropped a coin and when she bent down to find the coin he grabbed at the cash.

Leonard said she grabbed his hands until he pulled away and ran out the door. Another employee, Kenneth Gronski, told police he followed Beacham into New Goss Manor where he saw him get into a van. Out of a picture line-up Beacham was identified as the robber. He was charged with robbery, simple assault, theft by unlawful taking, conspiracy to commit robbery and conspiracy to commit theft. He waived his right to a preliminary hearing before District Justice James Tupper.

Benefit square dance to aid Paul Jobson and family

A benefit square dance will be held Fri., Aug. 14 at College Misericordia, Dallas, from 8 p.m. to midnight to benefit Paul Jobson Jr. Jobson, 35, of Plains, is suffering from Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS) commonly called "Lou Gehrig's Disease".

ALS attacks the nerves in the spinal cord and brain that control muscle movement. It causes progressive paralysis. The disease can progress rapidly or it can slowly deteriorate the muscles over a very long time. Unfortunately, there is no known cure.

Jobson, who is employed at Topps Chewing Gum, Inc. in Duryea, and his wife, Sharon, have a two year old daughter, Katie. All proceeds from the square dance will be given to the family.

Luzerne County Commissioner "Red" Jones and Wilkes-Barre resident, Joe McKeown, will do the calling. Both are veteran square dance callers and will teach dancers everything they need to know to have a good time.

"Obviously money will not be able to stop the disease, but it will help Paul and his family make plans, reduce medical expenses or support any other priorities they deem appropriate," said Jones, a friend of the Jobson family for close to 20 years.

Jobson, formerly from the Back Mountain, remains positive and is working hard to fight the illness. He is still working and under doctor's care.

"To help Paul and his family, we would like to ask you for your prayers and a financial contribution. Tickets are only $15 per person and we're sure all will have a great time," said Jones.

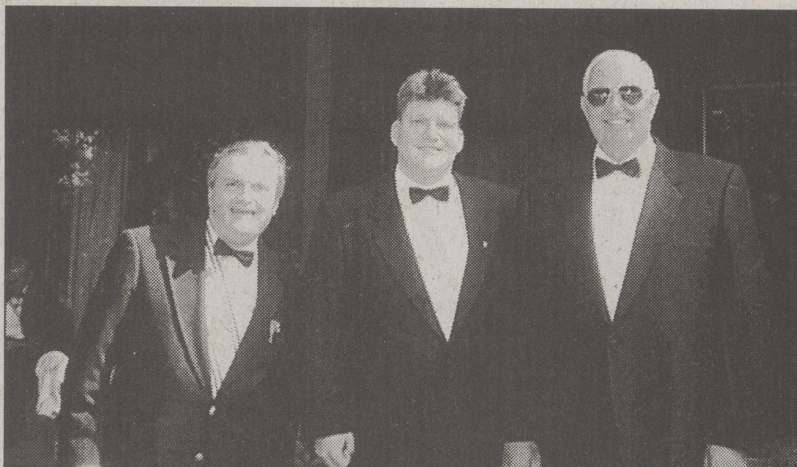

Refreshments will be available and a bake sale will be held.

Tickets may be purchased in advance by calling Bill Jones, Event Chariman at 868-3593, Joyce Jobson, Paul's mother at 639-2756, Marie Jones at 639-2186 or Melinda Seidel at Dallas United Methodist Church at 675-0122.

2nd annual library golf tournament

The second Par 4 Golf Classic to benefit the Back Mountain Memorial Library will be held Monday, Aug. 3 at Mill Race Golf Club, with a shotgun start at 12 noon. A $70 entry fee includes golf, cart, on-course refreshments, prizes and dinner. Registration will be limited to 30 foursomes.

To register, send payment and a list of players to: The Par 4 Cafe, 128 Parrish St., Wilkes-Barre PA 18702. Make checks payable to the Par 4 Cafe.
