Too little, too late

The Dallas Mountaineers suffered an opening day 19-14 defeat at the hands of West Scranton Friday night, in a game played at Memorial Stadium in Scranton. After allowing a touchdown early in the game, the Dallas defense stiffened and kept the Invaders out of the end zone until after the Mounts had evened the score in the third quarter. But a blocked punt that turned into a score put West Scranton on top to stay. The Mountaineers outran and outpassed the Invaders, but fumble seven times, turning the ball over three times.

In right photo, Kevin Yurko followed Frank Perkoski through a hole in the Invaders' line. Yurko carried five times for 17 yards. He was also 1-for-1 passing, for 14 yards. Below, Ron Selenski got ready to wrap up an Invader ball carrier.
