"Hobo Pie" will appear at the Chicory House dance Nov. 14

Dance features Appalachian-style string band

They'll be heating the hall with hot southern tunes at the Chicory House Contra Dance on Saturday Nov. 14. "Hobo Pie," a four-person string band from the Philadelphia area, plays a wide-ranging repertoire of traditional Appalachian tunes. This lively music will accompany a program of appropriately southern-flavored dances: contras, squares and traditional "running sets."

The Chicory House and the Folklore Society will co-sponsor the New England Contra dance starting at 8 p.m. at St. Therese's Church on Pioneer Ave., Shavertown.

"Hobo Pie" consists of Carl Baron, on fiddle, banjo, and banjo-guitar, Barbara Johnson playing guitar, mandolin, fiddle, banjo-guitar, and uke, Ray Frick on banjo and banjo-uke, and Bob Woodcock, guitar, autoharp, mandolin and banjo.

The band's name comes from a campfire cooking utensil which consists of a two-piece cast iron pan with long handles held over an open fire to cook. A band member used them while camping at the Appalachian String Band Festival in Clifftop, West Virginia and was introduced to the name. Ridge Kennedy will teach and call the dances and help newcomers discover how easy it is to enjoy traditional American dancing.

Contra dancing is a multi-generational community dance that is aerobic, fun, and sociable. No partner or previous dance experience is necessary.

The Chicory house is an all-volunteer non-profit coffeehouse, sponsoring folk music and dance in the Wyoming Valley. Admission to the dance is $6 for adults and $15 for families. Dancers are asked to wear soft-soled shoes and to bring a snack to share at intermission. Further information is available at 333-4007.
