

Naylor-Lemmond Thanksgiving dinner to mark 25th anniversary

The 25th annual Naylor-Lemmond Community Thanksgiving Dinner will be held at the First United Methodist Church of Wilkes-Barre at noon on Thanksgiving Day, according to dinner coordinator Shawn Murphy.

To celebrate the dinner's quarter century mark, special door prizes will be awarded and photographs taken throughout the years will be on display.

The dinner, which honors the memories of Benjamin E. Naylor, Ms. Murphy's grandfather and Ruth and Charles Lemmond, the parents of State Sen. Charles D. Lemmond, Jr., is open "to anyone who would like to enjoy Thanksgiving Dinner with friends," says Ms. Murphy.

The dinner is served free of charge, although an offering is accepted to help defray the cost of the meal. Organizations that assist in subsidizing the dinner include the Commission on Economic Opportunity, St. Stephen's Church of Wilkes-Barre, and Luzerne County's Transportation Department.

Reservations for the dinner and for transportation may be made by contacting the First United Methodist Church of Wilkes-Barre at 822-6817.
