Streets of Tupelo, from Maslow Collection, featured at Everhart

The Everhart Museum Winter Exhibition schedule will present a further examination of issues and themes in contemporary American art drawn from The Maslow Collection, such as formalism, the development of an image based vocabulary and the narrative. Selections from the Maslow Collection: Part III will be exhibited through Mon., Jan. 18.

The Maslow Collection is comprised of over 500 works by 130 artists, a number of whom were included in two recent exhibitions at the Everhart. The upcoming exhibition will present the works of 13 additional artists including works on canvas, prints and three dimensional works. Artists included are Nicholas Africano, Thornton Willis, Andrew Spence, Martin Mull, Tad Wiley, Jane Hammond, Aaron Fink, Jerry Zeniuk and Francesco Clemente, among others. The Everhart Museum is open Wednesday through Friday from noon to 4 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from noon to 5 p.m. Guided tours are available by appointment. Admission to the museum is $3 for adults, $2 for senior citizens and $1 for students. For information, call 346-7186.
