Make-believe murder mystery at Penn State Wilkes-Barre

The game is afoot! A murder at Penn State Wilkes-Barre! Where were you when the crime took place? Can you prove it? What was the murder weapon? What was the motive? Everyone is a suspect, everyone is a witness, but who will add the facts to unfold this mystery? Will it be you?

"Mysteries on Campus" is responsible for the crime, but not alone - this is a conspiracy! Funny Business on Campus is performed by "Top Hat Productions" - a national repertory theater group, booked by one of the country's largest talent agencies. It's an evening of intrigue, murder and suspense. Everyone is witness to the crime as they play detective, but only one will be named "Master Sleuth" (and win a cash prize). T-shirts and other novelty prizes will also be awarded. More importantly - a crime will be solved.

Limited seating is available for this mystery in the Hayfield Community Room at Penn State Wilkes-Barre in Lehman. Tickets are $20/person, $15/person with student ID and includes dinner at 6 p.m. and the show at 7 p.m. on March 23. For more information or reservations, call 675-9284.

Donald Faux deployed in Mediterranean

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Donald R. Faux, son of Donald E. and Christine A. Faux of Dallas, is currently halfway through a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean Sea, Arabian Gulf and Adriatic Sea while assigned to the aircraft carrier USS Enterprise, home ported in Norfolk, VA. Faux's ship is the lead ship of the USS Enterprise Battle Group.

During the deployment, Faux's ship participated in Operation Desert Fox in which U.S. forces launched missile attacks on military installations in Iraq. The attacks were made after Iraqi President Saddam Hussein's refusal to allow U.N. teams to inspect Iraqi installations for weapons of mass destruction.

While deployed, Faux's ship will continue to defend U.S. policy and support international interests in the Middle East and Europe.

Carriers, like USS Enterprise, are forward deployed around the world to maintain a U.S. presence and provide rapid response in times of crisis. They serve as a highly visible deterrent to would-be aggressors and, if deterrence fails, offer the most versatile and powerful weapons available, including Tomahawk cruise missiles and tactical aircraft.

The 1994 graduate of Tunkhannock Area High School, joined the Navy in August 1995.
