GOH students worked hard to raise funds

The Missions program at Gate of Heaven School is dedicated to raising money for destitute countries across the world. Every year, Mrs. Albert's seventh grade class has a goal of raising $1,000 for the program.

This year $1,010 was raised, but the money was not easy to come by. A bake sale near the beginning of the year gave the fundraising a boost of $250. Then, the class was divided into five groups, each group trying to raise as much as possible by raffling off

Altogether, the groups made about $600. Although it seemed their goal would not be reached, generous last-minute donations from class members brought the total up to $1,010.
