Lehman-Jackson students learn Reading is Fundamental

The Lehman-Jackson PTA recently sponsored its first free book distribution of the year through its RIF program. RIF, which stands for Reading is Fundamental, is the nation's oldest and largest non-profit literacy organization serving children.

Throughout the week, PTA members volunteered their time to read and encourage the children to "Gobble Up A Good Book" in keeping with the Thanksgiving theme of the book distribution. Volunteers helped distribute more than 600 books for all students at the elementary school.

This program headed by PTA Chairperson Cheryl Summa, is geared towards showing students that reading is fun and Fundamental for success in life. It encourages children to become lifelong readers by building self-esteem and involving the most important people in their lives - parents, teachers and other children in the learning process.

This book distribution was made possible with help from major contributors, UGI and Offset Paper-back.
