Registration will be held in the Lake-Lehman Elementary Schools according to the following alphabetical schedule of the last name:

Thomas Seybert is named Penn Stater of the Quarter

Dr. Mary Hines, Penn State Wilkes-Barre campus executive officer, has announced the campus's newest Penn Stater of the Quarter is Thomas Seybert, PE, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Surveying. The Penn Stater of the Quarter is a member of the faculty, staff or student body who has demonstrated a special dedication to the mission of the campus. Dr. Seybert has done an outstanding job serving as head of the Surveying Department during Dr. Charles Ghilan's sabbatical leave during the fall semester. He enthusiastically represents his department at campus open houses and other functions. He is always readily available to talk with prospective students and to work with current surveying students. Dr. Seybert earned his bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees in civil engineering from Penn State. He has been with the Wilkes-Barre campus since September, 1996 where he teaches land development design and stormwater management. He resides in Shavertown.
