50 Years Ago - April 21, 1950 LAKE TWP. STUDENTS RETURN AFTER EXPLOSION

Lake Township schools did not get an extended Easter vacation in spite of the explosion that wrecked the pressure tank, demolished the hot water heater and ruined supplies stored in the brickwalled tank room, four days before Easter. Before the end of the spring vacation the tank had been replaced with a similar one. Hot water awaits installation of a new heater to replace the one destroyed in the explosion.

30 Years Ago - April 23, 1970 NO MORE ASPIRIN FOR DALLAS STUDENTS

Dallas school children suffering from headaches, stomachaches or any other aches will no longer receive the customary dose of aspirins, sodamints or lozenges from the school nurses. In explaining his decision, Dr. Robert A. Mellman, stated that aspirin given without a physician's knowledge or without benefit of a complete case record of each student, can counteract other medication and have undesirable results.
