

SCIENCE FAIR AT DALLAS MIDDLE SCHOOL

Students at Dallas Middle School displayed their knowledge of science and technology last week and the school's annual science fair. At left, Laura Morgan, Kira Szulborski and Sara Swepston stood by their project, "The Life Cycle of the Frog," with Kira's dad, Bob Szulborski. Leah Bolton, right in photo at lower left, showed her mom, Wendy Bolton, the project, "Does Eating Breakfast Help School Performance?" Kippie Morgan pointed out the details of a project to Jenna Bolton, below.

work. The future of a combined, efficient Back Mountain police force is still tentative.

"We entered into a feasibility study, and they did," says Wagner. "That's a big step. We do things right, we don't rush in."

"It all comes down to what the study says," says Miers.

"There's nothing wrong with being progressive in thought," says Carroll. "There's nothing in concrete. It's a study."

with an option to take more space if necessary. Among other factors, the move was contingent on special rates for employee parking in city-owned garages. Weselcouch said the company, not individual employees, would pay for parking. Because the building is located in a Keystone Opportunity Zone, Commonwealth will be exempt from most state and local taxes until 2010.

"In the big picture, I would see minimal impact on Dallas and the surrounding area."

BE A PART OF THE NEW DALLAS HIGH SCHOOL STADIUM

Dallas Gridiron Club is seeking individuals and businesses in our community to purchase custom engraved 8" x 8" x 2 1/4" thick brick pavers which will be permanently installed and displayed in the walkway at the main entrance of the new fieldhouse facility at Dallas High School Stadium.

Pavers can be engraved as a memorial to loved ones, to honor past and present Dallas athletes, or even to advertise your business.

Price of brick with custom engraving is $75 for two lines of all upper case lettering up to 17 characters (each line) including spaces. Additional lines can be engraved at $5 per line. Corporate art/logo pavers are also available.

For more information, or to order your pavers, contact Mike or Betsy Dombroski at (570) 674-3924. Deadline for orders for installation this year is 5/29/00.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT.
