

Julia Ross wins Sem scholarship

Dean John H. Burbank, Jr. recently announced that Julia Ross, daughter of Richard and Ann Ross of Dallas, was one of five students to win a Wyoming Seminary Lower School Merit Scholarship.

JULIA ROSS

The award was established to encourage promising sixth-grade students to attend Wyoming Seminary Lower School. The winners were chosen on the basis of a competitive exam. Each award recipient received $2,500 the first year and $500 towards each subsequent year's tuition.

In addition to the Merit Scholarship, Wyoming Seminary's financial aid program offers many opportunities for families who would like to send their children to Sem. All financial aid is need-based, and may be awarded above and beyond scholarship amounts. In 1999-2000, Wyoming Seminary awarded more than $2.5 million, with more than 39 percent of all students in both Upper and Lower Schools receiving some financial aid.

To apply for next year's Lower School Merit Scholarship, please call 283-6182.

DHS GUIDANCE NOTES

The PTSO at the high school has decided to change its Student of the Month selection process this year. Students will be selected on a quarterly basis. This format will allow a total of twelve students to be recognized. U.S. Savings Bonds will be awarded to those students who meet the required criteria and are selected. The following is a list of categories that students may qualify for: Citizen Student, Creative Student, Student Achiever, and School Spirit Student. Any person interested in nominating a student may do so by calling the Guidance Office at 674-7218 and obtaining a nomination ballot. The PTSO is currently looking for businesses or individuals who would be willing to sponsor each student. If you can be of assistance, please contact the Guidance Office.

Financial Aid Night, has been scheduled for Tuesday, October 24. It will be held in the high school cafeteria at 7 p.m. This is a very informative and valuable seminar for parents of students who will further their education by attending college.

Seniors are encouraged to check out the scholarship file in the guidance office. Several new scholarships have come in, and students may check to see whether they meet the application criteria.

Applications are available for the Pennsylvania American Legion State Police Youth Week, June 24-30, 2001. Any male or female who will be completing his or her junior year prior to the program week and is interested in a possible career with the State Police is eligible. See Ms. Jones for an application.

Sem to hold annual fund drive

Alumni, parents and friends of Wyoming Seminary are invited to participate in the school's Annual Fund Phonathon, running evenings from October 15 to November 9 at the Upper School campus. This year's Annual Fund campaign, chaired by Susan Weiss Shoval, class of 1970, and Y. Judd Shoval of Kingston, has a goal of $1 million and will end on June 30, 2001. Since 1968, Seminary's Annual Fund has been a major revenue source for the school's annual budget. It helps the school meet day-to-day expenses and provides funding for financial aid, equipment and academic programs. Tuition covers only 80 percent of the total cost of a student's education. The remainder is met by Annual Fund income and return on endowment. During the four-week Phonathon, about 250 volunteers are needed to contact thousands of Seminary alumni throughout the United States. This year a National Phonathon Committee, comprised of 25 former Phonathon chairpersons and chaired by Claire Conlon Evans, class of 1952, is in place to help recruit much needed volunteer callers. To volunteer for this year's Annual Fund, or for more information, call the Sem Alumni and Development Office at 270-2140.

Win art awards at county fair

Dominic Molino, age 9, and his cousin Samantha Himlin, age 8, both won awards in the art competition at the Luzerne County Fair. Dominic won first prize with an ocean scene in acrylic. Dominic's brother D.J., age 13 (not shown) also won a grand prize for his pencil drawing of a shoe. All three are students of Rose Reina at the Magic Brush art studio in Harding. The brothers are also students at Wyoming Seminary Lower School in Forty Fort. Samantha attends Dana St. Elementary School in Forty Fort.

College Night, financial aid program Oct. 19 at LCCC

Luzerne County Community College and the Luzerne County Counselors Association will hold the twenty-seventh annual College Night and Financial Aid Information Night on Thursday, Oct. 19, from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., at the College's Campus Center.

Representatives from more than 100 colleges, universities, hospitals, post-secondary technical schools, and the armed services will be at the program to representatives from colleges and universities will provide information to students who are interested in learning more about transferring to another institution after completing their studies at LCCC.
