Levinson nominated Dana Scholar

Jeffrey Levinson, Dallas, has been nominated to be a Dana Scholar, following the completion of his first year at Bates College.

Each year, ten men and ten women are chosen from the first year class of approximately 425 students to become Dana Scholars. Selection is based on academic excellence and promise, leadership potential, and service to the college.

Nominations are received from faculty, staff, and student leaders at Bates. During his freshman year, Jeffrey made dean's list both semesters, having received a GPA of 3.70 out of 4.0.

His on-campus activities included co-hosting a weekly radio show, providing tours to prospective students, acting in a play, serving as president of his residential unit and as a representative on the Student Government, and participating in the Jewish organization on campus.

Jeffrey graduated Dallas High School in 2000, and is the son of Howard and Susan Levinson, Dallas.

'All politics is local'

Thomas "Tip" O'Neill
Former Speaker of the House

Shouldn't your advertising be, too?

Love him or hate him, Tip O'Neill knew one thing - when the votes are counted, it doesn't matter what people who live outside your district think about you. That's as true in the Back Mountain as it is in Back Bay, so if you're planning campaign advertising for a local office, put it where it will count the most... in The Dallas Post. The Dallas Post is all local, all the time. Our readers are among the most influential and active in the region, so getting their vote might mean getting even more - their influence with friends and neighbors. Sure, the city papers can claim more circulation, but what good does it do if the readers live in Wilkes-Barre, Pittston or Mountaintop? Not a bit.

Put your advertising where the votes are - in The Dallas Post. Call today for low rates and other information.
