Dallas soccer club annual craft fair

About 100 craft vendors filled the Dallas High School gymnasium to capacity Sunday, as the high school soccer club held its annual fall craft fair. The event is one of the major fundraisers for the group, which supports boys soccer at the school.

Byron Grieves happily described the crafts he had on sale.

Kathy Murray and Diane Domzalski tended the bake sale table, always one of the most popular stops.

Emily Culver seemed perplexed by the Christmas ornaments, up close and personal.

Linda and Denise Valenta had a table full of wares.

Who could resist these smiling faces?

Bonnie Bell worked on a patriotic item.

Donna Yonkondy was ready for Halloween.

Katie Youells, Megan Martin, Mary Kate Ozick and Jill Martin checked out the table.
